UP-STATE CANVASS ENDED

Hughes and Hearst Are Back In New York City With Big Lot of Work Before Them.

HUGHES' SUPPORTERS CLAIM 175,000 PLURALITY

Tammany-Murphy Insists That Hearst Will Have Plurality of from 80,000 to 100,000 In Greater New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—With the close of the day, the storm center of political action in this state was transferred from the up-state counties to Greater New York. Until November 6th both Hughes and Hearst will make their appeals to the voters of the metropolitan districts. The programs arranged for them call for many speeches daily, and the campaign will continue to the dawn of election day. Hearst has already returned to the city, and Hughes will arrive tomorrow morning from Utica, where he closed his up-state organization tonight.

Croker's Bombshell.

The comments of Richard Croker, former leader of Tammany hall, upon the gubernatorial campaign in New York, and the speech of Secretary of State Root at Utica tonight, were the startling incidents of the day.

Greater New York was ablaze with political enthusiasm tonight. The Republican followers held more than 100 meetings, in as many different places, and W. R. Hearst addressed sixteen audiences between 6 o'clock and midnight.

Estimates of Result.

Estimates are being made by both parties as to the probable pluralities of their respective candidates.

National Republican Committeeman W. L. Ward said at state headquarters today: "Mr. Hughes will be elected by a plurality of at least 175,000 in the whole state. I shall not be at all surprised if his majority is more than 250,000. I am not talking by guesswork, but as the result of a careful study of the reports from all sections of the state. Great Republican gains are indicated everywhere."

State Chairman Woodruff declined to give out a forcast, but said he had received encouraging reports, especially from Kings, Queens, Nassau and Suffolk counties.

Charles F. Murphy said today that he estimates Hearst's plurality in Greater New York at from 80,000 to 100,000. Asked as to the boroughs, Murphy said: "I don't know about all the boroughs, but I feel certain that New York and Kings counties will go strongly for Hearst."

Tammany will hold its last and largest rally Saturday night.

Election Board Charges.

No action has yet been taken by District Attorney Jerome on the complaint made by Hearst against the board of elections, charging mutilation and destruction of Independence league nominating petitions. After a preliminary examination of witnesses by an assistant of the district attorney today, Jerome said that Magistrate Whitman will issue summonses for the board of elections in "John Doe" proceedings.

Jewish Leader Spoke.

At the Republican meeting at the Grand theater tonight, Oscar S. Strauss, former American minister to Turkey and slated to succeed Victor H. Metcalf as secretary of commerce and labor in President Roosevelt's cabinet, was the principal speaker. It was the first time Strauss has spoken during the present campaign.

"The question of this election," said Strauss, "is not whether we have a Democratic or Republican governor. It is a great moral question. It is a question of sincerity of principles that go to the very root of government. The nomination of Hearst was brught about by a corporatin of which he was president, and of which his paid agents were the officers. The Independence league is a class corporation. Its only independence is its independence of the people.

Humanity of Circulation?

"How can we, honoring the institutions of our country, sanction such methods, by voting for Hearst, even if he were fitted to be governor of New York? You have been told that you should be grateful to Hearst for sending Michael Davitt to Russia to write an account of the Kishineff massacre. I do not know whether it was for humanity or for circulation, but even if he did this that is no reason why you should throw away upon an unworthy candidate the highest gift in your power. Because you are grateful to a man is no reason why you should sell your daughter or your country."

Failure In Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 1.—Edgar D. Martin of the tobacco firm of H. M. Martin & Co., filed a petition in bankruptcy today, listing liabilities of $161,761 and assets of $90, on which exemption is claimed.

Czar at Tsarkoe Selce.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 1.—The imperial family left Peterhof today for Tsarkoe-Selo.

Tacoma Wants a Y. M. C. A.

TACOMA, Nov. 1.—This city has raised $150,000 in a thirty days canvass for the new Y. M. C. A. building.

LOUDENSLAGER'S FORECAST OF THE NEXT HOUSE

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Congressman Henry C. Loudenslager, of New Jersey, secretary of the Republican congressional committee, today issued the following statement regarding the complexion of the next house of representatives:

Sure Republicans, 222.
Sure Democrats, 120.
Doubtful, but probably Republican, 21.
Doubtful, but possibly Democratic, 13.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF ADE'S ENGAGEMENT

Playwright's Name Linked With that of Lady Who Knows Nothing About It.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—A Boston special to the Journal says announcement was made at the office of Henry W. Savage last night that George Ade, the playwright and wit, is engaged to marry Miss Helen Hale, a wealthy college graduate, who has sung in several Savage operas.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1.—Miss Helen Hale, who is playing an engagement in this city, said today that the announcement that she is engaged to George Ade, is incorrect. "It is the first I heard of it," said Miss Hale.

COUNT BONI WANTS PEACE

Anna Gould's Toy Hopes for a Reconciliation.

He Was Surprised That She Went So Far With the Suit.

PARIS, Nov. 1.—In spite of the statement made yesterday by Maitre Cruppi in his opening address in the suit of the Countess de Castellane for divorce from Count Boni de Castellane, that there was not the faintest possibility of a reconciliation, it is by no means certain that the count has abandoned hope of such an outcome.

His conduct since the suit began appears to have been based upon the belief that his wife must yield in the end. This theory will explain the count's refusal of liberal offers of a life income. It is also disclosed that the count never ceased writing letters to his wife, in which he begged for a reconciliation and in which he anathematized the American lawyers under whose influence he charged she was acting.

Friends of Count Boni say he was dumbfounded to learn that the countess had allowed the presentation yesterday of a detailed case. He was so confident that his wife would surrender that he did not prepare a defense. It was only today that the documents, which under French law must be exchanged, were transferred to counsel for the opposition. These papers amount in the main to letters written to Count Boni by his wife and which show the contempt in which she held her husband. These letters probably will necessitate the production of the letters which provoked them.

It seems certain today that Count Boni's defense to the charge of infidelity will be "unproven" and that he consequently will demand an inquiry and the production of witnesses, his idea being to accomplish a reconciliation. This would open a road to extricate the count from the money difficulties with which he is beset.

The calling of witnesses is what the attorneys for the countess are particularly anxious to avoid, as doing so would drag in some of the highest names of France. Maitre Cruppi yesterday gave no clue to the persons referred to as "Mme. A." "Mme. B." "Mme. C." and "Mme. D," except to those persons familiar with current gossip. If an inquiry can be avoided, the decision probably will not be rendered before November 21st.

Maitre Cruppi expects to speak for an hour and a half on Wednesday and the remainder of that session of the court will be given to Maitre Bonet, of counsel for the count. The court will then adjourn for a week, in order to give the public prosecutor, who under the French law represents the interests of the community, an opportunity to present his conclusions. After this, there will be a delay of another week, while the court prepares the decision.

The reports that the husbands of two of the women referred to yesterday have challenged Count Boni to duels are without confirmation.

HEARST IS DENOUNCED BY SECRETARY ELIHU ROOT APPROVED BY PRESIDENT

Independence League and Democratic Nominee Is a Very Dangerous Demagogue, an Inciter of Assassination and a Selfish Office Seeker

EXTRACTS FROM HEARST PAPERS QUOTED TO PROVE THAT M'KINLEY'S MURDER WAS CAUSED BY THE VILE CHARGES AND VILER CARTOONS PRINTED THEREIN — HEARST'S FAILURE AS A CONGRESSMAN IS AN INDICATION OF HIS UNFITNESS FOR OFFICE—WHILE NOT CASTNG ASPERSIONS UPON HEARST'S PRIVATE CHARACTER, ROOT POINTS OUT THAT HEARST IS LACKING IN THOSE RECOMMENDATIONS USUALLY EXPECTED IN HIGH OFFICE.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Secretary of State Elihu Root joined with Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate for governor of New York state, here tonight in addressing a political mass meeting in the Majestic theater. The doors of the playhouse were closed shortly after 7 o'clock, so great was the crowd within, and the streets were thronged thereafter with persons seeking admittance. A second meeting was arranged in Mannerchoir hall and Hughes also spoke there.

Message from Roosevelt.

Secretary Root came here direct from Washington, and, using the name of President Roosevelt, and speaking, as he said, "with his authority," he asked the people of the state to elect Hughes governor.

Root was warmly welcomed here tonight, and when someone in the galleries called out: "Who will be the next president?" there was a response of "Root."

Twice during the delivery of the speech the secretary was interrupted by persons in the audience and the great crowd in the theater was in an uproar. One of these interruptions came when Secretary Root declared Hearst had been elected t congress to serve the American people, but had failed to do so.

Hearst Sympathizers.

"That's a lie," shouted a man in the balcony. At once there was a roar of "put him out," but Root held up his hand for silence and said: "Let him remain." He then read a statement that he declared summarized Hearst's record in the national house.

The second interruption came when Secretary Root referred to the assassination of President McKinley.

"McKinley's dead; why should you bring him into this?" cried a man.

Again there was a tumult and several policemen started to eject the man.

Hughes spoke just before Root, and in his remarks paid a personal compliment to the secretary, saying: "He comes to us tonight as a hero of the victories of peace."

Hughes repeated in his address the pledges he has heretofore made as to the policy of his administration if elected governor.

Secretary Root's Speech.

Root's speech contained a bitter denunciation of Hearst, which the speaker said, had the full and complete endorsement of President Roosevelt. At the same time Root paid an eloquent tribute to Hughes and announced that he was authorized to say that the president greatly desires the election of Hughes as governor of New York.

Self-Seeking Demagogue.

"I say to you with President Roosevelt's authority," said Root, "that he regards Mr. Hearst as wholly unfit to be governor, as an insincere, self-seeking demagogue, who is trying to deceive the workingmen of New York by false statements and false promises, and I say to you, with his authority, that he considers that Mr. Hearst's election would be an injury and a discredit, alike to honest labor and to honest capital, and a serious injury to the work in which he is engaged of enforcing just and equal laws against corporations' wrongdoing.

McKinley's Assassin.

"President Roosevelt and Mr. Hearst stand as far as the poles asunder. Listen to what President Roosevelt himself said of Mr. Hearst and his kind. In President Roosevelt's first message to congress, in speaking of the assassin of McKinley, he spoke of him as inflamed 'by the reckless utterances of those who, on the stump and in the public press, appeal to the dark and evil spirts of greed, envy and sullen hatred. The wind is sowed by the men who preach such doctrines and they cannot escape the responsibility for the whirlwind that is reaped.' This applies alike to the deliberate demagogue, to the exploiter of sensationalism and to the crude and foolish visionary who, for whatever reason, apologizes for crime or excites aimless discontent.

Hearst Was Meant.

"I say, by the president's authority, that in penning these words, with the horror of President McKinley's murder fresh before him, he had Mr. Hearst specifically in his mind. And I say, by his authority, that what he thought of Mr. Hearst then, he thinks of Mr. Hearst now."

Hearst's Demagoguery.

Characterizing Hearst as a violent and unworthy demagogue and persistent office-seeker, Root declared that as a congressman he had proved a worthless public servant; that while professing to favor an independent judiciary he had made a deal with the Tammany leader, Murphy, for the nomination of a judiciary ticket in New York; that while inveighing against corporations his own corporation management shows the insincerity of his professions; that it is not calm and lawful redress of wrongs which he seeks, but the turmoil of inflamed passions and the terrorism of revengeful force; that he is guided by selfish motives, and that he is "not guiltless of McKinley's death."

A Dangerous Specimen.

"Mr. Hearst is just the kind of a demagogue I have described. He is, indeed, an especially dangerous specimen of the class, because he is generously rich and owns newspapers of large circulation, and he can hire many able and active men to speak well of him and praise him in speeches and in private conversation.

No Character Witnesses.

"What evidence has Mr. Hearst produced of his fitness for this office? Of his private life I shall not speak, further than to say that from no community in this state does there come concerning him that testimony, of life-long neighbors and acquaintances, to his private virtues, the excellence of his morals and the correctness of his conduct, which we should like to have concerning the man who is to be made governor of our state.

Aimed at Popularity.

"He is really known to us solely as a young man, very rich by inheritance, who has become the owner of a number of sensational yellow journals; he has taken in his newspapers the popular side upon all questions relating to labor and corporations, and has sustained it by much violent denunciation and many falsehoods, and he has been a persistent seeker for office on the strength of taking the popular side; he has published whatever he thought would please the working people for the purpose of getting the labor vote.

His Political Purity.

"How stands Mr. Hearst's record as to political purity? Why, he comes to us covered all over with the mark of Tammany and Tammany's leader, Murphy, whom he himself has denounced as a scoundrel and a thief; he comes to us, not answering to the call of the people of the state, not as the highest candidate of the Democratic purty of the state, but named by his own procurement through as shameful a deal with the boss of Tammany, as ever disgraced the political history of the state. Can hypocrisy go further than the willing beneficiary of Tammany Hall preaching political purity?

Record In Congress.

"How stands his record as a legislator? He had opportunity to prove his capacity and sincerity in that field. Representatives are sent to congress to attend to the business of the country. Hearst was sent to congress to do that; he had an opportunity then to show how much sincerity there was in all the talk of his papers about reforms and better government.

"What did he do? Why, he did nothing; during the three years that he was been in congress, that body has been in session 467 days; there have been 185 recorded votes he yea and nay; he was present and voting at but twenty-three and present without voting at two.

Hearst's Class War.

"The worst of Hearst," said Root, "is that with his great wealth, with his great newspapers, with his army of paid agents, for his own selfish purposes, he has been day by day, and year by year, sowing the seeds of dissention and strife and hatred throughout our land. He would array labor against capital and capital against labor; poverty against wealth; wealth against poverty, with bitter and vindictive feeling; he would destroy among the great mass of our people that kindly and friendly spirit, that consideration for the interests and rights of others, that brotherhood of citizenship, which are essential to the peaceful conduct of free popular government. What public servant honored by the people's trust has he not assaulted with vile and vulgar epithets; what branch of our free government has he not taught his readiness to believe a corrupt agency of oppression?

Murder of McKinley.

Continuing on this subject, Root said:

"Only once has this method of incendiary abuse wrought out its natural consequence—in the murder of President McKinley. For years, by vile epithets and viler cartoons, the readers of the Hearst papers were taught to believe that McKinley was a monster in human form, whose taking off would be a service to mankind. Let me quote some of these teachings:

"'McKinley condones the treacherous murder of our sailors at Havana and talks of his confidence in the honor of Spain. He plays the coward and shivers, white faced, at the footfall of a processing war. He makes an international cur of his country. He is an abject, weak, futile, incompetent poltroon.'

"The bullet that pierced Goebel's chest cannot be found in all the West; good reason; it is speeding here to stretch McKinley on his bier.'

"And in April, 1901:

"'Institutions, like men, will last until they die; and if bad institutions and bad men can be got rid of, only by killing, then the killing must be done.'

It Made A Czolgosz.

"What wonder that the weak and excitable brain of Czolgosz answered to such impulses as these,' said the speaker. "He never knew McKinley; he had no real or fancied wrong of his own to avenge against McKinley or McKinley's government; he was answering the lesson he had learned, that it was a service to mankind to rid the earth of a monster, and the foremost of the teachers of these lessons to him and his kind was and is William Randolph Hearst and his yellow journals.

"Is there no one left who loved McKinley? Are there no working men in New York who cannot see, with satisfaction, honor spread upon the man who is not guiltless of McKinley's death?

And It Continues.

"The same kind of teaching is being continued now, month by month and day by day by the Hearst journals, its legitimate consequences, if continued, must be other weak dupes playing the role of Czolgosz; other McKinleys stretched upon the bier, discord and bloody strife in place of the reign of peace and order throughout our fair land. It is not the spirit of Washington and of Lincoln; it is the spirit of malice for all and charity toward none; it is the spirit of anarchy, of the communist, of Kishineff and of Bialystok."

To Support Roosevelt.

Root urged his auditors to return a majority in the house of representatives to work with President Roosevelt in the next congress.

"The evils which have come with the enormous increase in corporate wealth in recent years, are real and serious," said he. "There have been many outrageous pratices, which ought to be stopped and wrongdoers who ought to be punished. That should be done, not by lynch law, but by the intelligent and wise action which befits a self-governing people.

"The most conspicuous and fit representative of this great and beneficent work in this state is Charles E. Hughes. The most conspicuous and fit representative of this same great and beneficent work in the national government is Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States.

Two Great Dangers.

"The first danger is lest the people should refuse to return a majority of Republicans in the house of representatives; the second danger is lest in this greatest of states, the president's own state, the voters shall reject Mr. Hughes, who was the president's own choice for the nomination, should elect to that great office an unworthy demagogue in the person of Mr. Hearst.

"The immediate and necessary effect of Mr. Hearst's election would be to deprive the president of the moral support of the state of New York; it would be to strengthen the president's enemies and opponents, and to weaken and embarrass him in the pursuit of his policy. It would inevitably lead to a reaction against all true reform and genuine redress of grievances."

TRACTION COMPANIES IN BIG MONOPOLY

CINCINNATI, Nov. 1.—Terms for the leasing of the Cincinnati, Covington and Newport Light and Traction company have been practically agreed upon, and that property will soon pass into the control of the Columbia company, a holding corporation, formed under the laws of West Virginia. This company will also purchase the control of the Union Gas and Electric company of Cincinnati, the two Cleveland gas and electric properties and own outright many thousands of acres of oil claims in West Virginia. The aggregate capitalization of the subsidiary companies will amount to $175,000,000.

CUBAN REVOLUTION HAD DISASTROUS EFFECT UPON SUGAR BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The disastrous effect of the Cuban revolution on the importation of sugar from that island to the United States is treated in a bulletin issued today by the department of commerce and labor. The imports fell in September to 83,000,000 pounds against 230,000,000 pounds in the preceding month and 172,000,000 pounds in September of last year.

INFERNAL MACHINE FOR AN ENGINEER

AKRON, O., Nov. 1.—Andrew McIntosh, aged 40, a Baltimore and Ohio engineer, yesterday had a narrow escape from death by an infernal machine.

A revolver, packed with powder in a small box, and ten sticks of dynamite were concealed in a tool box in his coal house. The trigger of the pistol was fastened to the lid of the box. When McIntosh opened the lid the machine let go and the bullet struck McIntosh in the cheek, imbedding itself. McIntosh was burned by the powder and the dynamite was thrown to all parts of the coal house but did not explode. McIntosh's injuries are not serious.

SAN JOSE'S TRADE HAS MUCH INCREASED

SAN JOSE, Nov. 1.—Since last April, trade in this city has increased fully 25 per cent and the local business of the Southern Pacific company has increased correspondingly. One hundred passenger and freight trains pass through this city daily; twenty miles of yard track is being constructed here; the fifth railroad bridge across the Guadalupe river is being built; a new freight depot is to be built; freight cars to the number of 25,000 were handled during the month just ended; and the block signal system is being inaugurated, the first completed section, between Madrone and Gilroy, now being in operation.

SWITCHMEN'S DEMANDS WILL NOT BE GRANTED BY CHICAGO RAILWAYS

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Railroad managers today in formed the switchmen's union that their demands for a raise of 10 cents an hour would not be granted. The railroads decided that the switchmen would accept an increase of 2 cents an hour or nothing. Vice Grand Master Dodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen said the advance of 2 cents an hour would not be satisfactory to the men.

Bunko Men In Spokane.

SPOKANE, Nov. 1.—George Steecher and E. H. Quick was arrested here today charged with buncoing local firms by soliciting advertisements in the name of the switchmen's union. The scheme, which was denounced by the union authorities, is said to have worked in Joliet, Denver and many other cities.

BELL GIVES HEARST FITS

New York Herald Prints His Statement.

Democratic Nominee in California Assails Democratic Nominee in New York.

Theodore A. Bell, Democratic candidate for governor of California, discussing Hearst and his campaign for office in the state of New York, said today:

"I do not feel that under any circumstances would I be justified in unfavorably criticising Hearst as an individual, nor merely as the candidate of any political party for any office, but I do condemn him as the man who has attempted to disrupt and destroy the Democratic party, to which once he swore fealty and devotion; as the man who, with no excuse except that of an overpowering ambition for office, has forced upon the people a political organization created not in response to any popular demand, but as a cloak of his own ambition. Furthering this ambition, he has employed the same means for the corruption of political organizations as have been most violently denounced in the publications controlled by him and in this I feel that he merits the scorn of every true American throughout this country.

"In the organization of the so-called Independence League Hearst had but one purpose, one ambition. His intention is not, as he so loudly boasts, an unselfish desire to free the people of this country from corrupt corporate influence in politics; it is not, as he has claimed, an organization formed for the purpose of placing in nomination for public office men chosen from among the people. His single purpose from first to last has been the organization of a political party which should be absolutely controlled by one man, W. R. Hearst, for W. R. Hearst's aggrandizement.

"His hope from the outset has been that, once this organization has been formed, the absorption of the Democratic party in it would follow. Failing in this, Hearst has already demonstrated that it is his intention to use every effort to destroy the Democratic party and on its ruins to raise an organization by means of which he might defeat William Jennings Bryan, or any other candidate but Hearst for the nomination for the presidency of the United States. To carry out his plans Hearst has not hesitated to employ, as was shown at the Buffalo convention, the very means of corruption which he has so fiercely attacked through the newspapers controlled by him.

Hearst, although he has never neglected an opportunity to hold up to public scorn, through the columns of his papers, the practice of buying votes, has used his money to further his own political ends in the New York campaign, and where he has been unable to buy men with cash he has endeavored to compel them to bow to his will through fear; in other words, he has sandbagged every man whom his money would not reach. Although for years he has denounced the money power and the practice of intimidating delegates in political campaigns, he has not hesitated to employ both in his greed for office in this stupendously corrupt campaign of his in New York.

"Hearst, by a combination with corrupt political bosses whose aid he secured by purchase, obtained for himself the nomination for governor of New York.

"Not satisfied with this, however, he now aims to organize a political party of national importance which shall be absolutely controlled by him, and to do this he has striven to destroy the Democratic party. In all papers controlled by Hearst his one appeal to the voters is, 'Support the Independence League.' Behind this organization is but one man, but one power.

"Raise the curtain of the Independence League and behind it you will find but one man, a man who in his ambition to one day become president of the United States has determined to stop at nothing, whether it be the destruction of the Democratic party or the actual purchase of enough votes to carry him into the White House.

"That man is W. R. Hearst, the man who has been read out of the Democratic party in his own state of California and who now, in revenge, seeks to annihilate it and organize in its stead a party to be controlled absolutely by him. That is the true essence of his campaign for governor of New York."

CROKER IS AGAINST HEARST

Former Leader Cannot See Why His Pupil Murphy Delivered Tammany to Willie.

'TWOULD BE BETTER TO MEET DEFEAT

Murphy Doubted the Truth of McCarren's Cable and Associated Press Obtained from Croker Another.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The following message was received today by the Associated Press in London from Richard Croker, former leader of Tammany Hall:

"I think it was a most astonishing and unprincipled performance for Tammany Hall to turn its delegation over for Mr. Hearst, when he accused them all of being thieves and pictured them going to state prison, and to ignore that true Jeffersonian Democrat, Mr. Sulzer. I cannot understand why Mr. Murphy would allow the organization to depart from its recognized principles. Would it not be better for Tammany Hall to be defeated fighting for principle, than to dishonor itself by outraging the principles of Jefferson?"

When Charles F. Murphy, Tammany leader, was asked tonight if he had any comment to make on the Croker message he said: "No, not tonight."

The publication yesterday of Croker's message to Senator McCarren of Brooklyn, in which Croker complimented McCarren upon his "manly stand" against Hearst, was a bombshell in the ranks of Hearst and Murphy. It created a genuine sensation and, in the effort to minimize its effect, Murphy said today:

"It is a great question in my mind as to the genuineness of that cablegram. It is entirely contrary to the teachings and attitude of Mr. Croker all his life. Mr. Croker, as leader of Tammany Hall, taught me regularity, and always preached it. Tammany Hall has always followed that instruction.

"Tammany Hall went to that convention as followers. The people upstate wanted Mr. Hearst and we fell in line. Now that Mr. Hearst is nominated we are supporting him loyally. He is the regular nominee of the party and as such should be supported by the party."

Doubt having thus been cast upon the genuineness of the message the Associated Press sent through its London office the following inquiry:

"Richard Croker, Dundrum, Ireland. The Associated Press of the United States wishes to know whether you sent the following cablegram:

"'McCarren, congratulate you on manly stand you have taken; win or lose. (Signed) "'RICHARD CROKER.'

"Kindly reply. (Signed) "'ASSOCIATED PRESS.'"

Croker replied this afternoon, saying his cable to McCarren was "correct" and adding the additional statement as given at the opening of this dispatch, and in regard to which Murphy has nothing to say.

Wireless Telegraph Conference.

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—The delegates to the wireless telegraph conference finished their work today and expect to sign a convention Saturday. The agreement will be framed upon the principle of free inter-communication between all systems, but Great Britain and Italy will sign with reservations designed to protect the existing arrangements with the Marconi company.

BEFRIENDS HIS CAPTIVE

Constable Puleston Saves His Prisoner from Jail.

H. Millett, Charged With Felony, Wins Sympathy of Arresting Officer.

Charged with raising the face value of a check to the amount of $70, Harry Millett only escaped a felon's cell yesterday by the timely aid of two friends including Constable Puleston, who yielded to his earnest pleading for a chance to make the defalcation good. The fellow had been handed over to the constable for arrest, but recognizing his prisoner as an acquaintance and feeling sorry for his plight, the officer at once paid out of his own pocket enough to partially make up the deficit and smooth over the anger of the victimized man.

Millett worked in the Barton vineyard as a laborer and came to town on Wednesday afternoon with a team. He commenced drinking heavily and wound up in the Commercial saloon on Mariposa street. On a previous visit he is said to have run up a bill of $5 and wanted more credit, saying that he had a check in his pocket which he could not cash after banking hours. Fred Bielenberg, the proprietor, offered to cash the check and deduct what was due him, giving him the change. To this Millett demurred at first, saying that he did not care to break the sum which he needed for another purpose. After a short deliberation, he left the place, saying that he would get the money. He returned with a check drawn on the Bank of Central California. The sum was $70.60 and was signed by the paymaster of the Barton vineyard. To Bielenberg Millett claimed that he was a United States gauger. Thinking the fellow to be all right, the saloon man deducted his amount due from the check and handed over $20, as his customer said he only needed that much money for the time, and asked that the balance be kept on deposit for him in the safe until the following morning. He got the money, spent part at the bar and went off.

At an early hour yesterday Millett turned up at the saloon, sober, but anxious. He eagerly inquired for the proprietor and waited in the place for two or three hours for him. When Mr. Bielenberg arrived, Millett approached him, saying, "Say, about that check which I cashed with you last night. I was a bit full last night and should have kept it as mother needs it. She's sick and in want and I meant to send it to her this morning. If you'll give it back to me, I'll pay you $7 now and give you an order for my next two weeks' pay at the Barton."

The saloon man declined this proposition, but said he would go over and cash the check right away and give him over the balance of the change. He put on his hat and went over to the bank. The man remained outside.

Creighton Hamilton, the teller, glanced at the check and saw at once that something was wrong. He showed it to Mr. Gundelfinger, the cashier, who directed him to telephone to the Barton vineyard and look into the matter. In response to an inquiry, the vineyard people said they had pa. Millett $7.60 by check the preceding day, but not $70.60. Millett was waiting outside, and broke down when confronted with his guilt. Constable Puleston happened to be passing and the vineyard man was given into his custody.

When the story reached the Barton, a man wired down and begged for a delay in proceedings. He, however, seemed to be a personal friend rather than a man in authority. Constable Puleston was slightly acquainted with his prisoner and paid over all the loose money in his possession to help the wretched man out of his trouble, and another man came along shortly afterwards and also made a payment. This reduced Mr. Beilenberg's loss considerably, and he offered to give the fellow a chance to make the balance good when he could. Millett fervently thanked Puleston and the other two as he was liberated, and went off to seek another job. He was summarily discharged from the Barton vineyard but secured other employment during the day.

Millett is a well-spoken man of about 26 years. He claims to be well connected and has in his possession several warm testimonials vouching for his antecedents and good character. His credentials describe him as a man of education who came from the East a short time ago to settle in California. In speaking of his case, he observed: "I was the worse for liquor and didn't know what I was doing. The account of my trouble has been wrongly described in detail, but I must admit that I compromised myself seriously. I don't know how to thank Constable Puleston and another friend too much. I hardly knew Puleston, and did not even know his name, but he certainly did a square thing when I told him I was sorry and that this would be a lesson to me. I did not get arrested at all, but gave myself up to him when the saloon man came outside looking for an officer. He sized me up for a moment and then said, 'I think you're worth a chance. Be careful about monkeying with this kind of trouble again. I will do what I can to help you.'"

Last Week of Vaudeville.

At the Novelty theater this week Manager Bert C. Donnellan is presenting one of the greatest vaudeville bills ever witnessed in this city. Every act is a feature and must be seen to be appreciated. Gene King and his wonderful dog Nettie, are well worth the price of admission, not to say anything about the other remarkable features. Mr. King's rendition of Charles K. Harris' latest success entitled "Somewhere" is marvelous and he receives numerous encores nightly.

To lovers of high class vaudeville this will be the last chance to see this kind of amusement for some time to come as next week the famous Walter Belasco company opens an indefinite engagement, presenting the first week the sensational melodrama, "Love and Law."

MADERA MATTERS.

Superintendent J. J. White of the Sharon Estate Meets With Bad Accident.

MADERA, Nov. 1.—Superintendent J. J. White of the Sharon estate met with a serious accident at midnight last night and is deemed fortunate in escaping with nothing worse than a broken shoulder. He was driving home and dismounted to adjust the harness. One of the horses started off, and in making a grab for the reins from the side, Mr. White was thrown with violence to the ground. His right shoulder was fractured and he also sustained some bad bruises. J. W. Minturn came along and took him to Berenda in an automobile, putting him upon the southbound train for Fresno. After getting his injuries dressed, the hurt man returned to Madera on his way to Sharon this evening.

A small barn in the rear of the Methodist church caught fire at midnight. Owing to the fact that few people were abroad at the time, the fire gained considerable headway before an alarm was turned in. Adjoining buildings on B street were not touched by the flames.

W. H. Thornton came up from Merced last evening.

R. M. Russell of San Francisco is in Madera today.

B. T. Mathews is over from Fresno.

C. A. Wootten came in from Minturn yesterday and remained over night.

Elmer Ragadale is down from the mines in Hildreth district.

R. E. Elmore of Fresno stopped over in Madera yesterday for several hours to shake hands with friends. He has been on the coast for some time.

M. T. Steatey arrived in Madera last evening on the 5:25 train.

E. H. Jennings of Stockton was in Madera over night last night.

A. B. Barker of San Jose is spending a few days in Madera with a view to locating here permanently.

P. Ferguson, division roadmaster, was a visitor in Madera from Merced last evening.

G. T. Safrentz, government gauger at the winery at Minturn, was in Madera last night.

C. B. Henderson of Coarse Gold is down from the hills.

Miss May Guzola, sister of Mrs. W. M. Mase of Berenda, is in Kern City, being summoned there on account of illness in the family of her sister, Mrs. J. E. Depaulis.

Rev. Mrs. S. C. Enos, Mrs. J. B. Williams and Mrs. Elmo Clark have been chosen delegates to the Baptist Young Peoples' union which will hold a rally at Clovis Friday and Saturday.

SELMA HAPPENINGS.

Rousing Republican Meeting Held at the Opera House.

SELMA, Nov. 1.—The Republicans of Selma held a rousing meeting at the opera house last evening, Frank H. Short, A. M. Drew, W. F. Chandler, J. P. Bernhard and others addressing the voters in a convincing way. Mr. Short, as candidate for state senator, took occasion to state some of the legislation he would propose if elected. He said that he would work for a rate bill to govern the charges of railroads within the state as is done by the national government for interstate commerce. Also he pledged his earnest efforts in behalf of making the Kearney tract a model farm school and experimental station that will equal and perhaps surpass any similar state institution in the world. Mr. Short's speech was eloquent and convincing, eliciting much applause and adding to his warm political supporters in this section. Mr. Bernhard's speech was well received and highly complimented.

Rev. J. M. Taylor, formerly a resident of Selma, has been dangerously ill at Fullerton but it is reported that he is now considered to be out of danger. J. S. Taylor, a brother of Rev. Taylor, has been at his bedside for several days.

C. M. Wells, late of Nuckolls county, Nebraska, has purchased a 40-acre vineyard and orchard belonging to J. M. Pugh. The tract is well improved and is located six miles northwest of Selma.

Rev. D. Stewart has recovered from his recent illness sufficiently to resume his duties as pastor of the Christian church and he will conduct morning and evening services on next Sunday.

Albert Yost was taken to a Fresno sanitarium last evening to be operated upon for appendicitis.

Robert Taylor and family arrived this week from Mt. Vernon, Ohio, and intend locating in this vicinity.

Carl Drew has returned home from Oakland and is much improved in health by his vacation of two weeks in the bay city climate.

Harry Dawson and wife were here this week as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Purvis.

ASK ARCHITECT TAYLOR TO SUSTAIN SHORT

Congressman Needham and Superintendent Lacaff Join in Letter to Washington.

Postmaster J. W. Short will not approve of the latest modifications in the federal plans for this city. These changes were made in the original plans by Supervising Architect J. K. Taylor at Washington in response to a criticism to the effect that the accommodations for the public convenience were not sufficient. The architect's changes did not meet the situation as outlined by the Fresno postmaster, and so what is in effect a protest against the present plans has been forwarded to the office at Washington.

Yesterday Congressman Needham, Building Superintendent Lacaff and Mr. Short conferred regarding the matter, and Messrs. Needham and Lacaff fully approved of the postmaster's position. As a result of the conference, a letter was addressed to Mr. Taylor asking that the changes originally suggested by Mr. Short be adopted, this position receiving the concurrence of all three gentlemen.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD DECLARED A DIVIDEND EQUAL TO SEVEN PER CENT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—The board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad today declared a semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent. This is an increase of half of one per cent and places the stock on a 7 per cent basis. The dividend is the highest declared by the company in twenty-five years. In 1881 the company declared a dividend of 8 per cent and since that time the dividend has ranged from 5½ to 6¼ per cent annually.

RECORDS RUN MADE BY AUTO

Visalia to San Jose in Ten Hours, Fifty Minutes.

Previous Record Made By the Same Party Was Seventeen Hours.

VISALIA, Nov. 1.—From Visalia to San Jose in less than eleven hours by auto is the remarkable achievement of C. F. Kibbe and A. Ballister, who left here yesterday for the Garden City. The exact time from the leaving of the Palace hotel in Visalia until the business section of the Santa Clara metropolis was reached was ten hours and fifty minutes. The time for the distance of over 200 miles was a little better than twenty-one miles an hour. Mr. Kibbe and Mr. Ballister, who have been visiting in this city for several days, having made the trip down in the machine, left yesterday morning. A telegram received by Arthur Nuck this morning stated that they had arrived and that the machine, notwithstanding the hard run, was in first-class condition.

The trip to this city several days ago was made in about seventeen hours which was thought good time, considering the condition of the roads. M. T. Kibbe, who accompanied them down on the trip, went back by rail.

A number of the fans have signified their intention of going to Fresno Sunday to see Overall twirl against Portland.

At the meeting of Visalia lodge, F. & A. M., last night, the first degree was conferred upon Fred Williams.

A picked team of the Blue Ribbons and Brunswick nine of Fresno will cross bats with the Grants of this city in Visalia Sunday.

P. W. Forbes, Democratic candidate for the assembly in this district, has been compelled to cancel all of his engagements to speak at various places in this county on account of the illness of his wife at Independence. Mr. Forbes has left for his home in Inyo county.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smith and family have gone to Gainesville, Texas, where they formerly resided, and where they will make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have resided near Visalia for about two years. Mr. Smith is a brother of Mrs. I. T. Bell.

The local High school team is practicing for the game with Fresno Tuesday afternoon. From all accounts the two elevens are about evenly matched and an interesting exhibition may be looked for.

J. J. Steadman, editor of the California Cultivator, was here this morning from Los Angeles. While here he was shown through the Pacific Sugar factory.

Judge Wheaton A. Gray, presiding justice of the appellate court of the Los Angeles district, was here today on a business visit and to look after his property interests.

DIFFICULTY IN GETTING RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS

The United States Civil Service commission announces that an examination for the position of railway mail clerk to fill vacancies in that position in California will be held in this city on November 28th. The commission has experienced considerable difficulty in securing a sufficient number of eligibles to meet the needs of the service, and all persons who are qualified are urged to enter the examination. Applicants must be at least 5 feet 6 inches in height and weight not less than 135 pounds. Applicants should apply to the secretary of the Twelfth Civil Service district, room 211, Post-Office building, San Francisco, for application form 304 and instructions to applicants.

Chauffeur Held for Manslaughter.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—Frank Le Fleur, a chauffeur, whose automobile ran down and killed a pedestrian on Old York road, was convicted of manslaughter in the criminal court here today. The jury recommended Le Fleur to the mercy of the court. He will be sentenced later.

BECOMING A MOTHER

is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Book containing valuable information free.

Lard is no respecter of stomachs

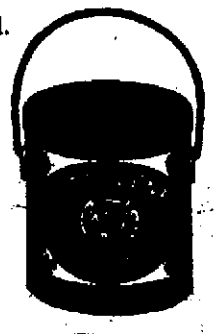

No one on this green earth can eat lard-soaked food day after day and not feel its ill effects eventually. You may have one of those iron-clad stomachs which will prove unsusceptible for a time, but the hog-fat and its accompanying indigestibility will do its work sooner or later. It is an absolute fact that lard—simply hog-fat—is indigestible, and that it is not fit for the human stomach.

Cottolene, on the other hand, is made from pure, refined cotton seed oil—a product of nature which is thoroughly palatable, digestible and healthful. No other shortening contains the digestible, nourishing and healthful qualities of Cottolene. Even pie, that nightmare of dyspeptics, becomes easily digestible when made with Cottolene. How many people can eat lard-laden pie?

Ask your regular grocer for a pail of Cottolene and start tomorrow on the way to "lardless cookery." It will insure both for yourself and your family better food, better digestion and better health.

Cottolene shortens your food and lengthens your life.

Try it according to directions for a few weeks and you'll never go back to lard.

COTTOLENE was granted a GRAND PRIZE (highest possible award) over all other cooking fats at the recent Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and food cooked with COTTOLENE another GRAND PRIZE.

"Home Helps" a book of 300 choice recipes, edited by Mrs. Rorer, is yours for a 2 cent stamp, if you address The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago.

A NEW FEATURE—The patent air-tight top on this pail is for the purpose of keeping COTTOLENE clean, fresh and wholesome; it also prevents it from absorbing all disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.

WOLTERS SHUT 'EM OUT

Fresno's Slabster Piches Ten Great Innings.

Yesterday's Game Fast—Schimpff Exhibited Here for First Time.

Well, well, well. Harry Wolters had everything in the book yesterday and some more that isn't in the latest edition. For ten innings the pennant winners swung in vain at his crooked ones, making but three hits in all, and Harry walked but one man, so what could the poor team do? Schimpff was on the firing line for Portland and it looked as though he were going to pitch another one of his very lucky games for several times the Raisin Eaters were within an ace of scoring and fast fielding saved the day. Fresno scored her winning run in the tenth inning.

The game was one of the fastest that has been played this year, and everyone was in the contest every minute. Schimpff had nothing to speak of but a straight ball and a drop but he put lots of speed into them and they were not so easy to locate as might have been expected. The lad fielded his position like a veteran and with the exception of one bad throw that he made to first in the third inning, his work was commendable. Fresno had three men on bases in the two innings but fast fielding prevented a score in one inning and stupid base running prevented a score in the other.

It looked like there might be a score in the very first inning. Doyle landed safe on a bad pick up by Sweeney, and Wolters got a line hit that bounced into Pete Lister's face. Then McLaughlin hit to Lister and a quick throw got Wolters at second, and another quick throw got McLaughlin at the initial sack. Lister was not in position to get this last throw, but Schimpff was there after making a brilliant run for the sack.

With two men gone in the third inning, Casey walked and Schimpff threw wild in an effort to catch him napping off the sack. Casey galloped to third before Pete Lister could get hold of the ball. Doyle was unable to land anything good, however, and Casey died on third.

A remarkable running pick up of a drive by Wolters by Sweeney in the fourth inning probably saved a score for McLaughlin, the next man at bat, got a three-bagger over the right field fence.

The sixth inning looked bad for Portland. Doyle and Wolters both went to first on free passes and McLaughlin landed safe on a grounder to the first sack, which Lister fumbled. Then Hogan hit to Schimpff and Doyle was got at the plate and Truck at first. Delmas knocked a high fly to Lister and Fresno's chances were over.

Stupid base running lost another possible chance to score in the sixth inning. Cartwright got a safe hit to center after one man was gone, and stole second. Happy Hogan flew high to the left garden and Cartwright went to third on a wild pitch that hit Casey on the foot, allowing him to take first. Then the hit and run signal was given and Charlie Doyle hit to left but Cartwright was too slow and Mike Mitchell's peg got him at the plate.

Portland's fielders pulled off another pretty double in the ninth inning. Cartwright had been issued a free pass to first and Hogan bunted the ball. Jud Smith got it and threw Happy out at first. Cartwright, who has the idea that he is swift on bases, tried to make third on this play and Lister threw him out at that sack, which Sweeney was covering.

Casey started the tenth by waiting until Schimpff had demonstrated that he could not locate the plate and Doyle sacrificed him to second with a pretty bunt. Wolters flew high to Warner, but McLaughlin sapped the hide right in the nose for a line drive to Sweeney that he was unable to field in time to do any good and Casey scored. The score:

SKATING AT RECREATION PARK

Owing to the many requests of the patrons of the popular sport of skating, and the inability to accommodate the crowds at the Fresno rink, Manager Southwick has decided to open the rink at the park Friday evenings, Saturday and Sunday morning, afternoon and evenings. Friday evenings will be society night for ladies and their escorts only. Grand march will take place at 8:30 promptly. The regular skate program will be carried out. Plenty of programs for all.

Full brass band in attendance every evening and Sunday afternoon. Admission Sunday afternoon, 10 cents.

The Fresno rink on K street, between Fresno and Merced streets, will be open all day and evening, with the exception of the sessions held at the park rink throughout the week. Two more pieces have been added to the orchestra, which is a great improvement, and insures plenty of good music. Manager Southwick has secured the services of Prof. Charles D. Smith of Chicago as skating instructor.

Prof. Smith comes very highly recommended as an instructor of skating, having been engaged in this line for some years in some of the largest rinks in the United States, and having made a special study of the two-step and waltz, is thoroughly competent to teach plain and fancy skating. This engagement of Prof. Smith will give the Fresno people an opportunity which they have never had before. Those who have never learned to skate should take advantage of this chance to learn from a thoroughly competent teacher, in less time than from one who does not understand the business.

To those who know how to skate, and wish to become the master of the little wheels in fancy skating, such as two-step and waltz, should also take advantage of this opportunity. Prof. Smith has organized a class for the purpose of teaching the waltz. This will be something new to the people of Fresno, as there are at the present time only a few who have attempted to master he wheels in this movement. Prof. Smith can be interviewed at the Fresno rink every day between the hours of 10 a. m. and 12 m., and 2 p. m. and 5 p. m. His rates are very reasonable and in reach of all.

Prof. Smith says that skating is growing in popularity and is considered by some of the best physicians to be the most healthful exercise. The clerk, bookkeeper, lawyer, business man who is tied down to his work from early morning to late at night, or the housewife who has little or no chance to get the necessary exercise to insure good health, should take to skating, as it affords pleasure as well as furnishing the exercise which the human system demands.

TRIO OF HAPPY ONES ARE JOINED TOGETHER

Justice Smith Has Busy Matrimonial Session in Court Yesterday.

Three couples were sent away happy from Judge Smith's court yesterday after being joined wedlock. They were Henry Hallen and Florence Young; John Goudlove Knabe and Mary Evelyn Nagle, and K. Monta and Tokiyo.

The first two are connected with a local vaudeville house and have been with the same theatrical company for some time. Friendship behind the footlights ripened into love and they decided yesterday to settle down to realism on the stage life together. Both are 25 years of age and are natives of this state.

Mr. Knabe is a native of Pennsylvania and is 28 years old. His bride has a slight advantage over her lord both in years and matrimonial experience, being a widow of 34 years. She is a native of Maryland. The pair have many friends here, and will settle down to housekeeping without the preliminary of a honeymoon tour.

The last named two are Japs. When Monta came to the Golden West several years ago and told little Tokiyo that he was going to win wealth and fame in the Occident, she believed him, and when, on her arrival to this country a short time ago, he renewed his vows of love, the little maid was willing. Some difficulty was experienced at the courthouse yesterday morning when Deputy Clerk Louis Ryan tried to ascertain the full name of the little bride, as she had only one, that of her father and native town. The groom explained that Mrs. Monta-to-be was like many other Japanese girls and here only the name of her sire, so the certificate was filled out and the two went to Justice Smith to be married in proper American style, resplendent in full American costume.

WILL ENLARGE ITS BUILDING

Telephone Company Plans Improvement.

Is Third Extension to Structure in the Past Ten Years.

The managements of the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph company is about to increase largely the size of its office building in this city, making it one of the most commodious offices on the Pacific coast. That portion of the present building that is two stories in height is to be increased to three, increasing the floor capacity by one-fifth and facilitating the transaction of the office business.

J. P. Noble, the division superintendent, yesterday announced that the enlargement of the building had been decided upon, and that the company would be ready within a short time to call for bids on the work. The chances are, however, that actual construction will not commence before spring, when the work will be rushed.

When the telephone building was first erected by the company, about ten years ago, on Tulare street, it consisted of a twenty-five foot frontage. The business grew so rapidly that within a short time another story was added. This sufficed until about three years ago, when a twenty-five foot frontage adjoining was purchased, and upon this a three-storied building was erected, and in it was placed all the local switchboards, as well as the rooms for the use of the employes. The older building remained the administration building, besides having the long distance connections.

When the contemplated improvement is made, the long distance apparatus will be transferred to the third floor, while the second floor will be given up to the use of the district offices. No estimates of cost have been prepared as yet.

"PUDD'N HEAD WILSON'S" FINGER PRINT SYSTEM

Led to Detection of Man Wanted for Murder In Leavenworth Penitentiary.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—A curious result of the recent adoption by the United States army of the system of identification by finger prints, just reported to the war department, was the discovery, in the person of a soldier at Fort Leavenworth of a British murderer for whom the Scotland Yard authorities have been looking for years.

The man was a prisoner in the United States penitentiary serving a five years' sentence for a military crime. In the prison he was well-behaved and well liked, but when the warden, following the general order to take the finger print records of all soldiers, attempted to secure an impression of this man's digits, he met with violent resistance and the assistant who tried to make the record was knocked down and roughly handled.

Suspecting that this resistance was based upon the man's previous knowledge of the use to which the finger prints might be put, and that his record was bad, the warden sent copies of the prints to the police authorities in a number of cities. Within a short time Scotland Yard reported that the man had committed an atrocious murder in Mortasy, that he had been sentenced to life imprisonment and had escaped to America.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Nov. 1.—The man whose identity was discovered through the finger print system is James McCown, who, while serving in the English army, killed a soldier comrade at Malta. After coming to America he enlisted into an artillery battery under the name of McDonough. Last November he assaulted and narly killed a comrade of his battery. He was tried by court martial and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. The English authorities have said he is not wanted there and they hope he will remain away from England.

Small Strike at Vallejo.

VALLEJO, Nov. 1.—Federal Union, No. 11,445, recently notified all the coal and lumber dealers here that on and after today they wanted their working hours reduced from nine to eight hours. The request was refused and today the men, numbering about 100, walked out.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The abolition of the export duty on coal, which became effective at midnight, was the signal for the sailing this morning of hundreds of coal-laden vessels bound for foreign ports. No less than fifty steamers left the British channel.

ROOT ON HEARST.

If ever a public man was so severely arraigned, on so high an authority as Hearst was yesterday denounced by Secretary Root, on the express authority of President Roosevelt, we have forgotten the instance. To be denounced, on the president's authority, as "wholly unfit to be governor, as an insincere, self-seeking demagogue, who is trying to deceive the workingmen of New York by false statements and false promises"; as a "worthless public servant," a "violent and unworthy demagogue"; as a "hypocrite;" as devoid of private character; as debauching the judiciary while preaching its reform, and forming tax-dodging corporations of his own while denouncing those of others; as given to "violent denunciation and many falsehoods;" as acting with "malice for all and charity toward none;" and, finally, as "not guiltless of McKinley's death"—to be denounced as all this, by the word of President Roosevelt, is an infamy that has heretofore befallen no man. And, worst of all, it is true. There is, of course, no direct proof that the particular anarchist who murdered President McKinley was directly led to his crime by the incitements thereto appearing in Hearst's papers. But the spread of anarchistic sentiments in the United States, from a few misguided lunatics, meeting in cellars, to thousands of shouting hordes raging in the open, is due almost exclusively to the preachments of the Hearst papers. There is a vast deal less respect for law and order, life and property in the United States today than there was when Hearst began to preach, in journals of vast circulation, the doctrines formerly confined to the gutter and the sheets of the gutter. Among ten thousand anarchists there is far more likely to be one assassin of presidents than among ten dozen. Hearst created the ten thousand, and, to that extent, is "not guiltless" of the worst of the consequences of that creation. He is, moreover, wholly responsible for the false conception of McKinley as a weakling, a tool of brute money, and an enemy of the people. The falsity of that notion was fully acknowledged by the Hearst papers themselves, after McKinley's death, and it was never shared by anybody except the Hearst papers and those deceived by them, before that time. While Hearst did not write, and probably did not see, the particular articles in his paper directly advising the murder of McKinley, he was responsible for the whole anarchistic course of which these outrageous utterances were the irresponsible culmination. The American people have short memories of these things; Root has reminded them.

The general arraignment of Hearst as insincere is the main brunt of the charge. And when did Hearst ever do a sincere thing? When did he ever publish a paper that told the truth, even part of the time? We in California, who only see the Los Angeles Examiner, the best, and the San Francisco Examiner, the next best of the Hearst papers, have no conception of the depths to which the evening editions of his Chicago and New York papers daily descend. When did Hearst do a charity that he did not sound a trumpet before him? The people of California contributed the supplies and the Southern Pacific the train to carry relief to Galveston. Hearst contributed the signs, and took all the glory. Even the good things Hearst has accomplished he has spoiled by vain boasting and much lying about them. And, in the only public office he has ever held, he has utterly failed to make even a pretense of performing any of its duties.

And yet the people of New York may elect this man governor!

PHYSICIAN OR UNDERTAKER

The candidates for coroner have raised the issue whether it is cheaper for the county to have a physician or an undertaker for coroner, the services of both being required, in an official or unofficial capacity, in an ordinary inquest. Dr. Sweeney, the Republican candidate, points out that a physician as coroner can save the county the expense of many autopsies, as his professional knowledge will enable him to determine the cases in which no autopsy is needed. He presents figures showing that fewer autopsies have been held during the terms of physicians in the coroner's office than during the terms of undertakers equally honest and competent. While the coroner may not perform his own autopsies, he can, if a physician, intelligently judge in which cases they should be performed. This is the argument for a physician. W. A. Bean, Democratic candidate, replies that an undertaker will save the county more money. "The office of coroner in this county can not be run without an undertaker; if not one himself he must appoint one. When the office is held by a doctor, both the doctor and undertaker collect milage; but if an undertaker holds the office of coroner he alone collects mileage."

It seems to us that the physician has decidedly the best of the argument on this issue. No one will claim that an autopsy should be held in every coroner's case. Some sort of selective judgment must be exercised, and a physician can obviously exercise this judgment much better than a layman. On the other hand, the "mileage" argument, for the undertaker, is full of loopholes. The statement "When the office is held by a doctor, both the doctor and undertaker collect mileage; but if an undertaker holds the office of coroner he alone collects mileage" is not true, stated in this language. The mileage applies to pauper cases alone, and in these cases is based on a contract between the county and the undertaker who buries the body. Under this contract, these cases are divided equally between the three undertakers. Obviously, if one of these undertakers is the coroner, he can waive his undertaker's mileage only in his third of cases. The only way in which he could waive it in all cases would be by a change in the contract giving all the cases to his firm. And that would be electing him county undertaker as well as county coroner, which is not proposed. As to the large number of cases privately buried the mileage question has nothing to do with the case. The undertaker in the coroner's office would presumably get the majority of these cases for his firm, but that fact, however advantageous to him, would save the county nothing.

HEADS I WIN.

It is facetiously suggested that Hearst's "bright young men" in New York have two poster-type scare-heads prepared for use the morning after election, one reading and the other reading:

HEARST

HEARST
WINS.

The point to this joke is really a serious argument against Hearst. Deceptive and misleading head-writing is a fixed policy of the Hearst papers. It is rarely that the body of a "policy story" justifies the headline placed over it; and this is not merely due to the familiar difficulty of placing qualifying words in the brief schedule of a headline, but is an established and habitual policy of intentional deception. This may seem like a small matter; but the one thing that has made Hearst famous is the headline display of his newspapers. It is his one characteristic contribution to American civilization, the one characteristic feature of his public activity. If this one most typical achievement of Hearst is habitually dishonest and never careful or accurate, what shall we say of the sincerity of the man of whom this is the most characteristic revelation?

MIDNIGHT HARVEST FOR POLICE COURT

Three tramps and one drunken Indian were gathered in at midnight. The hoboes were F. Jean, A. R. Jameson and A. Moon. They were arrested by Officers Cronkhite and McCall just as they alighted from a southbound train at the Southern Pacific depot. They had the usual gags about looking for work, but appeared to be of the usual type.

The Indian said he was Charles Thomas. Officer Bradley came across him as he was dancing in a drunken frenzy in the road, in the path of an approaching street car.

The quartet will explain things to Judge Briggs today.

Owl Is Hour Late.

Owing to an unavoidable delay at a northern stopping place on the line, the southbound Owl train was one hour late last night. The delay gave rise to an unfounded rumor of an accident up the line but the statements of the officials sufficed to show the mistake.

EXAMINING THE JURORS

San Francisco Sensation In a Dull Phase.

Heney Insists Upon Having Men Duly Qualified Despite Ruef's Attorney.

SAN FRANSICO, Nov. 1.—Argument dealing with the qualifications of grand jurors and the humour of their selection, consumed nearly the entire session of the Superior court this afternoon.

Attorney S. M. Shortridge contended that a citizen was eligible to serve if his name appeared on the assessment roll for the year preceding the summons to duty. Francis J. Heney opposed this construction of the statute and renewed his objections to the three members of the panel previously challenged by him.

Before the questions were taken under advisement, John F. Twigg, one of the jury men, asked permission to make a statement and disclaimed all partisanship to his selection to serve. He stated that he did not wish to appear before the public in the attitude of shirking duty or, on the other hand, of attempting to serve while unqualified. Another juror, James E. Britt, father of "Jimmy" Britt, the pugilist, endorsed this sentiment.

Despite the objection of Shortridge, appearing as attorney for A. Ruef, the further examination of jurors was continued until tomorrow afternoon. Shortridge desired a continuance until Saturday, because of the hearing upon the injunction issued by Judge Seawell last week, set for tomorrow morning. Heney declared that Shortridge was present only by courtesy and had no right to ask a postponement.

INSTRUCTION SCHOOL IN CLERKS' UNION

Curriculum Will Include All that Store Employes Should Know in Selling Goods.

An innovation which will be heralded with favor alike by employers and employes, is about to come into effect shortly through the agency of the Retail Clerks' union. It is the organization of a school of instruction or rules for clerks and salesmen where practical lessons will be imparted to aspirants for honors of the counter.

This matter came up at the weekly meeting of the members last night, and it was arranged to commence the course of instruction at the next meeting. The best authorities in the country will be consulted as time goes on, and instructors will busily qualify themselves to teach classes all there is to know in enveigling store customers into buying wares. The course will be open to old and young alike. The rawest apprentice will have an equal chance to learn as the oldest hand with the yardstick. The curriculum will take in valuation of stock, up-to-date methods of representation, modern ideas in showing goods to their best advantage.

At last night's meeting more than one hundred members were present. Twelve new candidates were taken in with rousing honors and all present adjourned to an enjoyable social at which some choice cigars presented by County Clerk W. O. Miles were whiffed with pleasure.

The clerks are planning for their big masquerade which will be held in the Recreation park on next Thursday night.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC AND ITS EMPLOYES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—The conference between the superintendents of the different divisions of the Southern Pacific and the committees representing the Order of Railroad Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen were resumed today on a private or on the Oakland pier after having adjourned for a week.

The nature of the conference has been kept secret. It is known that the men have made certain demands for a readjustment of the wage and hour schedule and the officials have been considering the matter. At the last conference, which lasted for more than a week, no agreement could be reached and the meeting had to be adjourned.

The officials of the Southern Pacific declare that a strike is not thought of, either by the road or by the men, and that the difficulties will be settled fairly an dagreeably to both parties.

Among the officials attending the meeting are W. S. Palmer, general superintendent of the northern division; R. H. Ingram, of the southern division; Superintendents Munson of Ogden, T. R. Jones of the Sacramento division; J. C. Wilder of the Coast division and W. R. Scott of the Western division.

WANT NEW OPENING OF WALKER RESERVE

Unsuccessful Prospectors Will Organize to Agitate the Matter—Mining Camp Law.

HAWTHORNE, Nev., Via Tonopah, Nev., Nov. 1.—Numerous prospectors who failed to secure claims on the Walker Lake Indian reservation are endeavoring to perfect an organization for the purpose of making formal protest to the authorities at Washington. They will endeavor to have the opening annulled, on the ground that it was not properly conducted, and they will ask that, if the reservation is opened anew, cavalry be placed in charge of the reservation at least two weeks before the signal is given to start.

Considerable disorder now exists at Dutch Creek camp on account of the establishment of several saloons in the new mining town.

The miners have voted to allow no Chinese or Japanese in the camp, and have appointed a committee of seven, to whom all disputes over claims and townsites will be referred for arbitration. A health committee has been named to lay out a sanitary district.

BUNCH OF SHOWS COMING TO BARTON

Number of High Grade Attractions Announced for Appearance on Local Stage.

The Elleford Oakland Stock company will present at the Barton tonight the famous melodrama, "Saved From Shame," which was written especially for Effie Fisher to star in and during her three years with the play she has been more successful than she was with "Hazel Kirke." Manager Ellefford was very fortunate in securing such an excellent drama to put on the coast boards at popular prices. There is considerable comedy and lots of pathos in the piece and the rendering of the leading part of Doris by Miss Agnes Williams Johns will be sure to please the large audience, which the advance sale shows will be there. Norval MacGregor will be seen as Kenneth, James Corrigan as the jolly Irish Doctor O'Brien and William R. Abram, aided by Miss Pauline Maitland, will keep the comical end up in the parts of Mr. Beetle and Miss Busybee.

The Ellefords close their week's engagement Saturday with a matinee of "Josh Whitcomb" in the afternoon and the play, "The Slave Girl," at night. They then leave for a one week stand in Oakland and then go to San Francisco.

"Arizona" Sunday Night.

"Arizona" which will be presented at the Barton next Sunday night, November 4th, is so well known that it seems superfluous to recite the story again. Suffice to say that this charming comedy drama which has received such an enormous amount of praise in America comes to this city this season with a fresh scalp at its belt, having but recently returned from a triumphant tour of all the principal cities of England and having received the personal endorsement of King Edward VII. "Arizona" is without doubt the best play that Augustus Thomas has ever written and the production of the same company engaged by Hollis E. Cooley are second to none in the present theatrical era. The story of "Arizona" is interesting throughout the entire four acts and there is not a moment from the rise to the fall of the curtain when the interest of the spectator flags. The characters are all taken from life and are a correct portrayal of the people who go to make up the inhabitants of the state from which the play takes its name. The scenes and incidents are laid in the beautiful Aravaipa valley, the center of interest being the ranch of a well-to-do cattleman and the home of Colonel Bonham and the 11th U. S. Cavalry at Fort Grant. The picturesque scenery is all painted from sketches made on the spot by the eminent painter, Frederick Remington, and such has been the success of the painter in reproducing the same that one can almost feel the aroma of the cactus and sage bush and imagine the inhaling of the dry choking alkali dust. "Arizona" is an American play and will live long in the hearts of the American theatregoers. Seats are now selling; prices 25, 50, 75 and $1.

"Merry Wives of Windsor."

Probably nowhere in the world is there a more delightful example of Sylvan beauty than is to be found in and around Frogmore, England, where the giant oaks, with centuries of age, rear their majestic heads in patriarchal grandeur like silent sentinels, guarding the sacred memorial wherein rests the sarcophagus containing the remains of England's beloved Queen Victoria.

Frogmore to England is historical, both from the fact that it is the hallowed resting spot for its sacred dead monarch, as well as the locale wherein Shakespeare laid several of the important episodes in "The Merry Wives of Windsor," and until a few years ago this was further enhanced by the fact that there stood in Windsor park the famous "Herne's Oak," where Falstaff has his adventure with the supposed fairies, the night he had his tryst with "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

Louis James has this season, in his presentation of "The Merry Wives of Windsor," which will be seen at the Barton next Monday night, November 5th, reproduced with photographic fidelity Windsor Forrest, disclosing this celebrated old oak, with affrighted Falstaff disguished as an animal prone at its base. To add color and realism to this scene, several electrical effects are introduced that are said to be especially effective and startling. The sale of seats is now open.

"Checkers" Two Nights.

"Checkers," the long promised play, is finally booked to come to the Barton for two nights for next Tuesday and Wednesday, November 6th and 7th. But though this is the play's fourth season, it will be seen here with just as large a company and substantially the same company as seen in New York. The failure of the play to get here before this season was due to its great popularity in the East. How great this popularity has been may be appreciated from the statement that with substantially the same company which will be seen here, it has played fourteen engagements in New York, seven in Philadelphia, four in St. Louis, three in Chicago and Pittsburg, and it will play another engagement in every one of these cities the latter part of this season. The late Hon. William C. Whitney said: "Checkers" is the greatest racing play I have ever seen." And Dan Smith of the New York Herald says: "Checkers" is the greatest show that ever struck New York." The sale of seats will open tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

"Peggy From Paris."

At the Barton next Thursday night, November 8th, the attraction will be George Ade's distinct musical comedy hit, "Peggy From Paris." So wide is its fame that it is certain theater patrons generally will be interested in the engagement. Mr. Ade's clever wit and keen satire are known to everybody and reports agree that some of his keenest and sharpest humor is found in "Peggy From Paris." Critics and public unite in saying that this musical play outranks many another in several striking characteristics. Its wit and humor are employed in telling a really ingenious and interesting story, while the characters are uncommonly entertaining caricatures of amusing types. The music, too, the work of J. A. Baynes, has caught popular fancy. The chorus numbers are said to be particularly effective. They combine bright melodies and fanciful dances in a way to impart spirit and animation and fascination to the ensembles. The sale of seats will open next Monday morning.

FOUR KILLED IN A FIGHT

Ghastly Result of Resistance of Arrest.

Ex-Convict, Two Officers and Member of Posse Were Victims of Bullets.

Four men are dead as the result of a battle yesterday afternoon near Kennewick, Wash., between officers and two men who had robbed two stores in Kennewick.

The dead are:

MARSHAL MIKE GLOVER, killed instantly.

JACOB LAKE, ex-convict, killed instantly.

JOE HOLZNER, deputy sheriff, died this morning as the result of a wound in abdomen.

FRANK PERRY, member of a posse, accidentally shot in stomach by a deputy sheriff.

The captured robber, a youth, who first gave his name as Robert Layton, and who later said his name was Ernest Parker, and that he came from Florence, Colo., is reported to be a pugilist known in Seattle. Sheriff McNeil, who also was shot when his party was ambushed by the robbers, is not badly hurt.

Marshal Glover, and Lake, the ex-convict, were killed during the battle. Holzer and Perry died this morning. Holzer was shot in the abdomen by the young bandit now under arrest. After shooting Holzer and also shooting Sheriff McNeil, in the abdomen, the youth fired four times at close range at Harry Rosenau, a citizen, but missed him.

Parker is not the Seattle pugilist, known as "Kid" Parker. The arrested boy seems to have adopted that name in the hope of concealing his own, which is probably Robert Layton. His home is at Florence, Colo., and he is an undersized boy of 19 years with a small, dark face, and bushy hair.

The officers state that the youth and Lake were the only men concerned in the Kennewick robbery and all of the posse have been called in.

LINDLEY NOMINATED FOR LOS ANGELES MAYOR

Republican City Convention Had Stormy Session and Will Continue Today.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Dr. Walter Lindley was tonight nominated for mayor by the Republican city convention, in a stormy session of delegates at Simpson auditorium. Several contests developed as the result of a request for endorsement of its candidates from the non-partisan organization. Dr. Lindley was nominated by a considerable majority on the first ballot.

Balloting for other offices resulted in the nomination of eight straight Republican candidates for the council and one non-partisan candidate and the selection of the non-partisan nominee for city clerk. The convention adjourned shortly before midnight to resume tomorrow morning.

LAND FRAUD BENSON AGAIN INDICTED

This Time He Is Charged With an Arizona Accomplice of Stealing Tehama Lands.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—John A. Benson, heretofore charged with land frauds in connection with F. A. Hyde, whose case is pending in Washington, has again been indicted by the federal grand jury on similar charges. Edward B. Perrin of Williams, Ariz., has been indicted with him. The lands are located in Tehama county.

The men were not arrested. Word was sent them of the indictment and Benson appeared at the United States marshal's office and gave bonds in the sum of $10,000, with C. W. Clark and Al Hart as securities. Perrin is on his way here with bondsmen and is expected to arrive tomorrow.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC WANTS THE OCEAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Argument was resumed today in the battle before the United States Circuit court of appeals between the Southern Pacific and the Western Pacific over the strip of bay land that the former is trying to wrest from the latter's possession.

Peter F. Dunne, A. A. Moore and John Garber spoke for the Southern Pacific, maintaining that the land was theirs by right of purchase. F. W. M. Cutcheon disputed this, claiming that at the time the Western Pacific started to build tracks on this strip it was state property.

In the course of his argument Cutcheon said: "I was under the impression at first that the Southern Pacific intended to fence in only California. Now I believe it intends to extend its fence into the Pacific."

Fair Friday.

The wave of high pressure continues to occupy the eastern half of the country, being now central over the lower Lakes and Ohio valley, with freezing temperature, except in the extreme south and Atlantic seaboard. Light rain or snow fell yesterday or last night over the middle and north Atlantic states. The low pressure which was central over Nevada and Arizona yesterday has moved eastward and now forms a low trough which extends from Manitoba southwestward to the Gulf of California, causing light rain over the north Pacific coast; portions of Montana and Nevada, and an area of local rains covers Western Colorado, Utah and Northern Arizona. On the Pacific slope, the pressure is increasing over the northern portion, with cooler weather, while it has remained nearly stationary over California. Cloudy or foggy weather prevails along the coast, with favorable conditions for fair weather at Fresno and vicinity Friday.

SANGER SUSTAINS LOSS IN DEATH OF E. STACK

Resident of Thirty Years Was Highly Respected and Had Many Fresno Friends.

In the death of Edward Stack, who passed away at his home near Sanger on Wednesday night, that town lost one of its most respected citizens, and many men in this city mourn the passing of an esteemed friend. Coming to this county thirty years ago, he engaged in business and acquired valuable property in Sanger and throughout the Kings River bottom country. He was known throughout his long residence as a man of unblemished integrity and probity, and his unostentatious generosity was quietly in evidence at more than one hour of trouble. He was a native of this state and was 58 years of age. He never married, but had many relatives in various parts of California.

The funeral will take place from the undertaking chapel of Stephens & Benn at 10 o'clock this morning.

LOWER COURT DAILY GRIND

Each Wants to Have Others Arrested—Simplified By Taking Bunch.

Family jars and neighborly friction between a couple of Italian families on Poplar avenue resulted in several complaints to the police by the parties involved. Each one said the other was to blame and was the limit in everything that was bad and lawless. In repudiating this mild impeachment, the others indignantly denied being other than highly abused individuals, and wanted to swear out counter charges. The police helpfully endeavored to get at the bottom of the thing and restore order from chaos, but gave up the attempt in despair. Finally, as the easiest way to simplify the troubled mesh, it was decided to arrest all on a charge of disturbing the peace and bring them to time and order by one common complaint preferred by the people again: Raphael Arbechio, Mrs. Raphael Arbechio, his wife, Guiseppi Lucarri and another. Plain Clothes Officer McSwain brought the parties to court and they were cited to appear on a date to be announced later if they could not keep quiet and behave themselves. If they can come to some agreement, or better still, separate as neighbors, there will be nothing more to it so far as the police are concerned. Otherwise, all four will have to face the police court.

"Sasses" the Police.

For using vile language to Officer Kennedy several nights ago, in the Japanese half-world district, when ordered to move on and stop loafing about, Oscar Pearson, a husky negro, appeared in court yesterday and was handed out ten days with commitment of sentence on his promise not to repeat his offense. The fellow hurled hot words at the policeman from a safe distance and got away, but the officer came across him later and arrested him on a charge of disturbing the peace. In court the negro was apologetic and penitent.

Maxwell Suspicion Cleared.

William Maxwell, the colored vagrant arrested a few nights ago on suspicion of being a man wanted in Bakersfield for a hold-up, was released yesterday when it became apparent that he was not the wanted man. He was advised to go to work at once and thus escape the suspicion of being a shady character.

Two Vags and a Drunk.

Of the other three who made up the prisoners in the police court docket yesterday were John Hager, charged with vagrancy, and J. Smith, a brakebeam tourist. Hager turned out to be a workingman temporarily out of a job and willing to take anything in the way of honest labor. He was released. Smith was released on suspended sentence and promised to leave town. Jack Keady was drunk when arrested on Wednesday night. He received ten days, but sentence was suspended.

PRISONER ESCAPES IN KEARNEY PARK WOODS

Mexican Slips Chains and Gets Clear While Being Brought to Jail.

A Mexican lad named Jean effected his escape from a buggy which he was tied in yesterday afternoon, on his way to the county jail, where he was to be detained pending investigation into a charge of larceny. The boy got away near Kearney park.

Upon receipt of advices from Hanford, Sheriff Collins directed Deputy Pickett to go out and apprehend two lads named Charles Atanen and Jose Jean, who were said to have stolen a horse and buggy while employed in a Wild West show. Mr. Pickett located the pair near White's bridge and drove out to track them. He came across them at the Panoche valley in the Coast Range and captured them. After fastening, as he thought, securely, the elder lad Jean to the stolen rig, he allowed him to drive on to town, while he went in another buggy with the other prisoner closely behind. This arrangement was the only means by which he was able to bring back both rigs and the two prisoners. The officer kept a close guard upon the rig containing the single occupant for the whole distance, but at a turn of the road near Kearney park he missed the boy when they came to a straight stretch of road. Jean had slipped his shackles in some manner and effected his escape into the woods somewhere near Kearney park.

A search is now being made for the runaway.

A posse of officers from the sheriff's office waited upon all incoming trains last night in search of the lad, but the missing boy has not been found, but the officers expect to locate him today. Deputy Sheriff Pickett might possibly have caught the runaway by firing at him as he got away in the brush, but did not care to do so in consideration of the youth and ignorance of the youngster. As he had succeeded in finding the stolen property, and had one of the lads safely secured, Pickett determined to let it go at that. With Deputies Lawrence and Hal Collins last night, he made a thorough search of the country, returning at a late hour. They will scour the country again today, and have now a good clue.

The captured boy had in his possession a violin which had probably been stolen from the circus with which the two were working.

THEODORE SUMMERLAND PAYS VISIT TO FRESNO

Theodore Summerland, Republican nominee for railroad commissioner from the third district, was in Fresno yesterday in the interests of his candidacy. He was a guest of J. B. Johnson, the supervisor, who is an old friend. Mr. Summerland is a resident of Los Angeles, where he has been prominent in the councils of the Republican party. He is an extensive property owner of Los Angeles county and was four years the assessor of that county. He is at present the chairman of the city council of the southern city, of which body he has been a member for eight years.

YOSEMITE ROAD SURVEY.

By the End of November Will Be Completed to Crane Valley Dam.

The survey for the Yosemite road is completed from the Fish Camp pass to Wawona, and Emil Newman, the surveyor in charge, is working from Fish Camp toward Crane valley. By next week he will reach the California mill site; in two weeks the head of Crane valley and by the end of November the Crane valley dam. He will then go over the survey from Crane valley to Pollasky, made some two years ago, by Chase and party. The report of the progress of the work is made by A. G. Wishon, who has just returned from a trip of inspection. Wishon says the work is progressing satisfactorily and a fine route of easy grades is being laid out. The greatest obstacle to progress is the heavy brush.

DAUGHTERS DISINHERITED

Three Daughters By Former Marriage Cut Off Purposely With Nothing.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The will of William Scully, otherwise known as "Lord" Scully, said to be the largest own of real estate in America, was filed here today for probate. All his lands are left absolutely to his wife.

"I leave my three daughters by my first wife, Mary and Julia (both of whom, as I hear, have been married), and Kathleen, and to their children and their children's children, and their descendants, and each of them, nothing whatever, my will and meaning being absolutely and entirely to disinherit all and each of the three of them and their descendants. I do this for super-abundant reasons, which I forbear to particularize here."

The ban is lightened as to the youngest daughter, Kathleen, whom the testator recommends to the kind consideration of his widow, but leaving the latter free and unfettered as to what action she may take. The testator approves and confirms all gifts and conveyances of property and rights made to his son, Thomas Scully, and his wife.

Mrs. Scully is appointed guardian of the son, Frederick Scully, during minority.

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 1.—John Scully, grandson of "Lord" Scully, descended by another child than the three disinherited daughters, stated today that the terms of his grandfather's will had been known to the members of the family. Why the daughters were not given a share of the estate was a private family affair which he did not care to relate.

ARNOLD DALY AS A KNIGHT ERRANT

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—There is no settlement in sight of the trouble between the New York Transportation company and its striking chauffeurs and practically all the company's automobiles are still tied up.

Strike sympathizers this afternoon surrounded an electric vehicle in which was Miss Bessie Buchanan, a writer, of Pittsburg. Believing the cab was empty, the strikers hurled stones at it. Miss Buchanan screamed for assistance.

Among those who were in the crowd was Arnold Daly, the actor. He pushed his way through the crowd and begged the men throwing stones to desist, as there was a woman in the cab. They at once assumed an apologetic air and avowed they had thought the cab was empty. They scattered when a policeman appeared.

NEW YORK CHAUFFEURS HAVE SYMPATHIZERS

Police Protection of Strike Breakers Was Resented By Mob Led By Woman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—A riot, in which 500 striking chauffeurs and sympathizers participated, occurred at Eighth avenue and thirty-third street tonight. About 100 policemen were required to quell it. Many of the policemen had their helmets and uniforms ruined. Roundsman Frank J. Dunn was struck on the head by stones and seriously injured.

The police declare that the trouble was started by a young woman, who urged the crowd standing in the street to break up the police protection of a passing automobile.

"Will you stand this? Go at them like men," the woman is said to have shouted. Instantly the cry was raised: "Down with the strike breakers; kill the police if they interfere."

The crowd surrounded the automobile. Stones, sticks and eggs were thrown from every direction. The police made repeated efforts to arrest men who appeared to be ringleaders, but each time a man was caught he was rescued by companions.

NEW THEATER PLANNED BY SEATTLE MANAGER AS INDEPENDENT HOUSE

SEATTLE, Nov. 1.—J. P. Howe, the veteran coast theatrical manager, has associated with him G. J. Eitel and Hans Peterson for the erection of a fourteen-story theatrical building at Westlake boulevard and Pine street at a cost of $250,000. A lease of ninety-nine years on the ground was taken today. The theater will be opened about September 1, 1907. Only Shubert and other independent attractions will be produced.

WINSTON S. CHURCHILL WILL VISIT WEST INDIES TO INVESTIGATE RESOURCES

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Winston Spencer Churchill, the parliamentary secretary of the colonial office, is going to the West Indies at about Christmas to study the resources of the islands, especially the prospects of extending cotton growing with the view of possible government aid. The Duke of Marlborough and Sir Alfred Jones, president of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, will accompany Churchill.

Storm in Southern France.

ST. RAPHAEL, France, Nov. 1.—The storm which swept over the south of France today destroyed the jetties here and carried away a bridge, the waves breaking about 150 yards inland. Three small steamers and many fishing vessels were wrecked, but there was no loss of life.

M. E. Bishops at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church from all parts of the civilized world met here today with the ministers and laymen constituting the general missionary committee of the church. One of the important actions will be the appropriation of $1,500,000 for missionary work.

FAMOUS TERRORIST MADE HIS ESCAPE

Russian Royal Personages Are in Greater Danger Because of His Liberty.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 1.—Gerschunin, one of the most famous terrorists and head of their fighting organization during the Sipiaguine and Plehve regimes, has escaped from Siberia, concealed in a water cask. His disappearance is a serious menace to personages whose lives the terrorists are seeking, as he is a skilled organizer and one of the most remarkable men the revolution has produced.

Gerschunin, who is a Jew, was condemned to peretual imprisonment for complicity in the assassination of Minister of the Interior Sipiaguine and the attempt on the life of Pobodienostseff, late procurator general of the holy synod. He was sent to the silver mines on the Mongolian frontier in Siberia, February 13th. One of his comrades, a man named Melnikoff, escaped from the mines two months ago and the governor of Akatui says he cannot guarantee the safe keeping of Gasanoff and Ykorifsky, the other terrorists implicated in the assassination of Plehve, because the revolutionary agents who arranged the escapes of Gerschunin and Melnikoff are well supplied with money and have the sympathy of the whole population.

Lieutenant Dalgieff, of the Kushka regiment, has been sentenced to twelve years imprisonment in the mines for organizing a mutiny at the fortress of Kushka.

Daring Crimes Make Shipments of Gold By Railroad Too Risky.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 31.—Eight of the identified participants in the robbery on October 27th of Cashier Hermann, of the custom house, according to the papers here, were condemned to be sent by a steamer last night to Cronstadt for execution by a squad of soldiers. Several women have been arrested on suspicion of complicity in the crime, including one who had in her possession a large quantity of explosives, but no trace has been found of the mysterious woman who decamped with the cash. The police are now working on the theory that she was a man in disguise.

It is learned that the robbers first intended to attack a shipment of $1,250,000 from the state bank on October 17th, but they were forced to abandon their plan because the authorities were warned and strengthened the police on duty in all the districts traversed by the treasure and also sent the money in installments by various routes.

On account of the danger of the robbery, the state bank has refused to undertake shipments of money to the provinces of Astrakan and Saratov. The past fortnight's record of important robberies throughout the empire show that three crimes of that nature were committed and that the total booty secured, in addition to the St. Petersburg robbery of last week, was $152,000.

COLORADO RIVER ALMOST CONTROLLED

One-Half of the Flow Turned and Complete Success Expected This Week.

IMPERIAL, Nov. 1.—Half of the flow of the Colorado river was today turned from the break in the river banks into the old channel. Success is attending the work at every stage and at the present rate of progress it is believed that by Saturday the entire volume of water will be flowing in the original channel. To accomplish this, the level of the water must be raised an additional six inches.

Imperial valley is preparing to celebrate the control of the Colorado with the Fiesta del Valle Imperial, to be held in Calexico early in December.

CORONER'S INQUEST INTO ATLANTIC CITY DISASTER AIDED BY RAILWAY CO.

ATLANTIC CITY, Nov. 1.—The coroner's inquest which is to examine and fix the responsibility for the electric railroad wreck Sunday, began today. Attorney Bourgenis, for the railroad company, offered the extensive resources of the Pennsylvania company to assist in ascertaining the true cause of the accident. Conductor Curtis denied he had been warned before leaving Camden that anything was wrong with the rear car.

HEAD ON COLLISION ON UNION PACIFIC DUE TO OPERATOR BEING ASLEEP

CHEYENNE, Nov. 1.—Passenger trains on the Union Pacific, eastbound overland flyer No. 2 and the westbound Pacific express No. 7, collided head-on at Ridge, west of Medicine Bow, early this morning and the engines were demolished, but no passengers were injured. Engineer Jack Costin of No. 7 jumped after applying the brakes and broke his shoulder. The accident was caused by the failure of the Ridge operator, who had fallen asleep, to signal No. 2, which was late.

FRENCH NEWSPAPERS MADE LITTLE MENTION OF CASTELLANE DIVORCE

PARIS, Nov. 1.—As a result of the industrious campaign of Count de Castellane to prevent the publication of the news that the suit for divorce brought against him by his wife came up for a hearing yesterday, not more than a third of the newspapers mentioned the fact and not a single detail is printed here, the law making the publication of divorce testimony a criminal offense.

Wireless Wizard at Milan.

MILAN, Oct. 31.—William Marconi and wife have arrived here. They are on their way to Coltano, near Pisa, to inspect the building of the ultra potent station of the wireless communication with Argentina. This station will be ready for trial in a few months.

COLLUSION IN PROSECUTION

Chicago and Alton Sued on a Contingency Fee.

Auditing Company Is to Have One-Half of Amounts Recovered.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Rudolph N. Patterson, president of the auditing company which has inspired a number of suits against the Chicago and Alton road, alleging discrimination in freight rates, took the stand today in the hearing of the first case against the road.

The suit was brought in the name of Zumbrock & Sons, of Springfield, Illinois, and Patterson declared on the stand today that he had a verbal agreement with the plaintiffs by which his company was to receive 50 per cent of the amount recovered from the railway.

"We were to get 50 per cent of this amount of the robbery," said the witness.

"What's that?" demanded Attorney Shaw, of the Alton. "Did you say 50 per cent of the robbery?"

"Yes," said Patterson. "I told Mr. Zumbrock that the railroad had been robbing him for years and said that he could recover damages as well as the sum paid by him in excess of the proper amount."

The witness produced duplicate freight waybills showing that 36 cents had been paid for a shipment of 100 pounds of freight from East St. Louis to Springfield, while but 25 cents had been charged for a shipment of the same amount and of the same class of goods from East St. Louis to Peoria.

It is claimed by the railroad company that the freight bills are destroyed every year and that they have not in their possession the original bills.

The hearing of the case went over for a day with Patterson still on the stand.

WHITE PLAINS BATTLE MARKED BY MONUMENT

On the Spot Where Washington Made His Final Stand and Hope Was Renewed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Amid the waving of flags and cheers from 3,000 people, the monument commemorating the battle of White Plains on its 130th anniversity was dedicated yesterday in that town. The Village Park Association erected the monument on the spot that marks the breastworks of General Washington. The stone is of granite and the tablet of bronze. On the top of the stone is the old mortar cannon dug up near the spot. The inscription reads as follows:

"This mortar marks the final stand by General George Washington at the end of his long retreat; the abandonment by General Howe of his purpose to capture the American army and the revival of the hope for national independence."

CONDEMNED MURDERER AFTER THREE YEARS' DELAY GRANTED ANOTHER STAY.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31.—Because of the illness of Attorney Wilfred Jones, counsel for "Lord" Frederick Seymour Barrington, convicted of the murder of James P. McCann and under sentence of death, another stay of execution has been granted. Sixty days have been allowed for Attorney Jones to transmit the transcript of the case to the Supreme court. Barrington has been confined in the Clayton, Mo., jail for about three years.

INSANE CHILD KILLED BABY BROTHER BY FIRING BUGGY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Taken home only a week ago from an insane asylum, Robert Dowd, 6 years old, set fire to his 11-months-old brother yesterday, while he was asleep in a baby carriage at their home in Newark, N. J. Mrs. Dowd heard the child scream and smothered the flames with a blanket. Then she ran with the baby to the city hospital, where the doctors hold out little hope.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—The Supreme court of the state will pass upon the validity of the will of Mrs. Jennie Chase, of Swampscott, who died under peculiar circumstances a year ago and whose will, which bequeathed her estate of over $1,000,000 to her adopted son, was recently disallowed in the county probate court.

Anti-Trust Law Violation.

OMAHA, Oct. 31.—The Douglas county grand jury today returned indictments against fifteen members of the South Omaha Coal Exchange for alleged violations of the anti-trust laws. The charges are similar to those on which thirty members of the Omaha Coal Exchange were indicted a few days ago.

DENATURED ALCOHOL AND ITS MANUFACTURE

Department of Agriculture Tells Farmers It Cannot Be Made on Small Scale.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The department of agriculture, through Dr. H. F. Wiley, had undertaken to educate the farmers regarding the manufacture of denatured alcohol. Two bulletins were issued today devoted to the description of the sources from which industrial or denatured alcohol may be obtained, the method of manufacture and some uses to which it may be put.

From Dr. Wiley's discussion of the subject, the conclusion is reached that the manufacture of alcohol on a small scale is not likely to prove profitable. Because of the regulations under which the farmer would be required to conduct his still if he engaged in the manufacture, it is evident that he must be content with producing raw materials, and that he cannot look forward to becoming a practical distiller.

"Under the present conditions, it is not probable that industrial alcohol can be offered upon the market at much less than 40 cents a gallon of 93 per cent strength," the bulletin says.

Dr. Wiley expresses the belief, however, that by paying attention to unused sources of raw material, and with improved methods of manufacturing and denaturing, this price can be diminished.

STANDARD OIL CO. WILL BITTERLY FIGHT PROSECUTION BY KANSAS.

TOPEKA, Kans., Oct. 31—Earl Evans of Wichita, attorney for the Standard Oil Company, today filed in the Kansas Supreme court a motion to make more definite and certain the position of the state in the anti-trust suit against the Standard Oil Company. "The Standard will put forth every energy in fighting this suit," said Evans. "I don't believe there is any demand from consumers or producers for this suit. Whatever trouble there is in the oil country is due to over production."

Stanford Defeated Vancouver Team.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 31—In a fiercely contested game on Stanford field today, the Cardinal team defeated the Vancouver fifteen by the close score of 5 to 3. The Cardinals in the first half clearly outplayed Stanford, but in the second period the collegians had much the better of the contest.

Fell Fifty Feet From Pole.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 31.—Andrew Youngberg, well known throughout the state as one of the leading members of the Knights of Pythias, was possibly fatally injured last evening by a fall from a fifty foot pole on which, as lineman for the Sunset Company, he was working. He lost his balance and jumped, breaking both legs badly.

Qualifications of L. Parker Timmins.

As some people appear to desire to question the capacity of Mr. L. P. Timmins to discharge the duties of the sheriff's office, except as to his admitted and exceptional ability in the line of criminal work and in the arrest and conviction of criminals, I wish to say that, during my term as sheriff, Mr. Timmins had charge of the civil processes in my office and at that time we handled the sales of property and insolvency proceedings not now handled in the sheriff's office at all; all of this business was handled by Mr. Timmins promptly, capably, honestly and to my entire satisfaction, and to the satisfaction of the people.

Mr. Timmins has been unjustly criticised for shooting a prisoner that was attempting to escape. He was fleeing with the goods on him, the result of a burglary just committed. Mr. Timmins fired to induce him to stop, but he jumped up in crossing a ditch and was killed. This is the only incident of the kind ever occuring in Mr. Timmins' career. The matter was investigated by me and the coroners' jury, and we were all satisfied that Mr. Timmins acted in good faith and without fault. Wm. Shaw, present chief of police, had a warrant for the man and is familiar with the facts. Respectfully,

JAY SCOTT.

THE CORONERS CONTEST

A printed slip is being circulated charging that "Deputy Bean hires auto of his partner and charges to the county."

The statement is not true. Mr. Bean has no authority to hire anything for the coroner's office and charge to the county; and he did not hire his partner's auto on this occasion. He rode in an auto owned by Mr. Otis Turner and driven by Mr. Joe Roscoe, but ordered by the coroner. It was not ordered of his partner nor was it ordered of Waterman Bros. Co., neither of them were at all interested in the matter. A card from Dr. Cowan explains the matter and no undertaker had a thing to do with it.

The statement is also made in Dr. Sweeney's circular letter that Stephens & Bean have monopolized the coroner's work for the "last twenty years." Again not true. The coroner for the past four years has had a deputy with Stephens & Bean; before that time it was never with them but always with the opposition house, except the two years of 1893 and 1894.

It has been suggested that the records of the office be published as the effort has been made by the opposition showing but a part of that record. The only way to show a record is to give it all so that the reader can see for himself. The Coroner collects his official fees and then there are other expenses connected with the office such as mileage, autopsy work, expert work, reporters fees, inspections, etc. No one of these items taken alone can sho wthe expense or the economy of running the office. L. O. Stephens of the firm of Stephens & Bean at one time held the office of Coroner and during the last week he has inspected the books of the County Auditor and supplies the following figures taken from the records:

Average yearly fees collected by Stephens (undertaker) ..... $ 762.00
Average yearly fees collected by Dr. Long (physician) 1,162.00
Average yearly fees collected by Dr. Cowan physician) 1,338.00
Total yearly cost under Stephens 1,448.00
Total yearly cost under Long 1,456.00
Total yearly cost under Cowan 1,900.00

This places the whole matter before the voter and it shows that Stephens cost the taxpaying public less than any Coroner for the last twelve years. The Coroner collects his mileage under the state law, the undertaker collects his mileage under contract with the county; both are perfectly legal and just when collected by different parties, and the contract allowing the mileage to undertakers was drawn by the district attorney and approved by the Board of Supervisors. The expense of the office under Dr. Cowan is greater simply because the county population is greater. No one can regulate the work in the Coroner's office; it is controlled by nature and conditions.

If you understand the situation you will vote for

YOURS TRULY,
W. A. BEAN

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC

I wish to say to the public that in the month of August I ordered the deputy coroner, W. A. Bean, to Firebaugh in an auto. The train had gone, there was no other train for twenty-four hours. The case was urgent and the second telegram said come at once. The circumstances justified the use of an auto; I ordered it, and there is no cause for any criticism of Mr. Bean in the matter.

SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS

Another Chrysanthemum fete has come and gone, leaving behind many pleasant remembrances in the minds of the patrons of its manifold pleasures, and for the good ladies who worked so unceasingly to make it the success it proved to be all thoughts of hard work vanished in the knowledge that the guild's finances were so satisfactorily increased. Armory hall was truly a garden place of beauty. The central feature of course was the lovely chrysanthemum booth in the center of the room formed of ivy entwined pillars and palms as a setting for the gorgeous display of the season's first and rarest blossoms, many of which were kindly donated to the ladies by L. L. Cory, whose superb collection of these beautiful flowers is a sight upon which to feast the eyes at this season of the year. Many of his rarest specimens graced the booth last night. There was the "Queen," a large snowy variety which is extremely fine and the "Mrs. Barklay" of an exquisitely delicate shade of pink. A big bronze variety with red lined petals is known as the "Edgar Saunders," while the shaggy yellow beauties which are much admired known as the "Golden Gate" were originated in California and are surely a pride to their native soil. These are some of the chief varieties that figured in the display. Miss Kate Parsons also contributed to the booth, which was in charge of Mrs. Frank Bedford, assisted by Mrs. Frank Roman, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. W. T. Burke, Misses Eva and Edna Patterson and Vivian White.

All about the walls and drooping over the balcony were quantities of paper boughs while brilliant electric lights and vari-colored lanterns added to the effect. In one corner one found an alluring palmistry tent, where a fascinating gypsy impersonated by Miss Breeze Hoffman in glistening spangles and "gypsy red" foretold wonderful futures for those who wished to tamper with the mystics. At the entrance to this tempting spot were two dear little gypsy girls in bewitching costumes, who proved to be Miss Gertrude Solomon and Miss Roberta Guard.

A little farther down the hall were placed inviting looking refreshment tables where coffee, cakes and doughnuts found ready sale. Mrs. J. E. Hughes presided here, assisted by Mrs. J. A. Webster, Mrs. Minnie Devine, Mrs. O. L. Everts, Miss Louise Hughes. Many dainty articles of fancy work were on sale at a booth in charge of Mrs. G. T. Willis and Mrs. Packard. The good old-fashioned Thanksgiving booth represented the real self-sacrificing labor in the worthy cause. One dear lady confessed to making seventy pounds of fruit cake and how good it looked. And, too, there were jars and jars of mince meat "like mother used to make" and a few modern improvements tacked on, and plum puddings galore all ready to be steamed up for Thanksgiving dinner. Many wise housekeepers have had their orders in ahead of time to be sure of a share of the good things that were one sale last night by Mrs. William Davison and Mrs. R. D. Jones. Mrs. G. C. Grimes, the guild's president, worked on this booth untiringly and was unable to be there last night because of serious illness in her family.

An attractive candy booth prettily decorated had home-made sweets for sale by Mrs. Al Braverman, assisted by Miss Alice Hopkins and Mrs. Norman Kelley. An adjoining punch booth that did a thriving business was in charge of Mrs. M. D. Huffman, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Terrill of Oakland, Miss Nannie Burns and Miss Westphal.

The promenade concert, which began at 8:15, was a pleasant variation of the usual way and gave everyone an opportunity to move about and take in the beauties of the booths while listening to entertaining musical numbers. The Y. M. C. A. Mandolin club was a pleasing feature of the program. This organization has been in existence for several years and plays in perfect harmony with a swing and brilliancy that won them much appreciative applause and added very materially to the program, upon which they appeared for two selections, with an encore or two. Miss Maud Hohmann sang two beautiful numbers and sang them both charmingly. The first was Nevin's "Nightingale Song," which is a rarely lovely number by this gifted song writer and was sung with much delicacy and musical appreciation of its lyric quality by Miss Hohmann. For a second number she sang "Swallows" by Frederick Cowen which was wonderfully pleasing and called forth much well merited applause. Signor Wanrell, whose full vibrant voice filled every nook and corner of the big hall sang Verdi's beautiful "Vespri Siciliani" in splendid style. An encore was demanded and he sang "For the Sake of the Past" by Mattei. Mrs. L. L. Cory and Mrs. W. J. McNulty were responsible for the success of the program and promenade concert which was most thoroughly enjoyed. Dancing began at 9:30 and was participated in by a large portion of the younger social set who were very much in evidence last night as were also their elders. It was altogether a most successful "fete" and the ladies are to be congratulated upon their skillful management.

A quiet marriage ceremony was performed yesterday at 3 o'clock at the United Presbyterian manse, the Rev. J. M. Gilleapie officiating. The groom was E. J. Molloy of Cincinnati, Ohio, and the bride Mrs. Mary Thomas of Easton. The wedding was quite simple, only the immediate relatives being present at the ceremony, which was followed by an informal reception at the home of Mrs. Rossez on F street. Miss Mamie Rossez was maid of honor and Eugene Larquier best man. The bride is well known in Fresno county having lived at Easton for a number of years. Mr. Molloy comes from an old Ohio family and has been connected with a number of large Eastern papers. They will make their home on a ranch on the corner of Elm and Adams avenue. The best wishes of a wide circle of friends go with them in their married life. Among those present at the marriage were: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. E. Parrott, Mrs. Ballard, Mrs. Joy, Mrs. Mary Rossez, Miss Mamie Rossez, Peter Rossez, and Eugene Larquier.

Of more than ordinary interest was the luncheon given yesterday by Miss Grace Shaver in honor of three of the season's brides-to-be,—Miss Ada Ferguson, Miss Mildred Rorick and Miss Edna Cooper. Besides the pleasure of having wedding arrangements to discuss, there was an announcement made which while it was not a surprise, made a merry little flutter of excitement when the pleasant news was told of the engagement of Miss Beatrice Williams and Mr. Lee Coates. For some weeks society has been guessing on this question, and it was not difficult to see that small boy Cupid was getting in his deadly work on another eligible bachelor.

Miss Williams is a charming Canadian girl, who first visited in Fresno a year or so ago as the guest of Miss Ada Ferguson, and since then has resided here, being for a time a most attractive nurse at the Burnett sanitarium. She and Miss Ferguson were school friends at a convent in Oakland. Of an engaging personality she combines many delightful qualities of character and manner which have won her friends wherever she goes, and the lucky man is in line for the most sincere congratulations. Mr. Coates is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Coates, old residents of Fresno. For several years he has been connected with the Hoeding Packing company and is well known in business and society, where he has always been exceedingly well liked. No plans have been announced for the wedding as yet, but rumor says that it is not far distant.

A very attractive luncheon table greeted the guests as they entered the dining room, where a pretty basket effect had been carried out in the adornment of the table. The color scheme was yellow and white. In the center of the round table was a huge brown rustic basket filled with lovely yellow and white chrysanthemums. The place cards were dainty little affairs decorated in baskets of chrysanthemums and bore the names of the following: Miss Ada Ferguson, Miss Mildred Rorick, Miss Edna Cooper, Miss Beatrice Williams, Miss Imo Dickinson, Miss Elsa Einstein, Miss Ethel Juarez, Miss Maud Muller, Miss Grace Graham, Miss Eugenia Miller, Miss Franke Craycroft, Miss Eleanor Hodgkin, Miss Betty Maupin.

The Epworth League of the First M. E. church enjoyed a delightful evening Wednesday night at the beautiful home of Dr. R. T. Hall, No. 335 Van Ness avenue, being a Hallowe'en social. The house was appropriately decorated in a manner that displayed great originality on the part of the decorators, the illumination shining through the eyes, nose and mouths of scores of grotesquely carved jack-o'-lanterns, and through weird painted faces covering electric light bulbs, while the great masses of varied colored autumn leaves suggested the impression of being in a forest. The large number of guests were greeted on the porch by fifteen of the young people disguised as "spooks," while inside they were entertained by a series of unique and original games. The mystic well and the haunted room permitted all a glance into the future.

The menu consisted of "midnight twisters," "devil's concoction," "imps of pain" and "fortune's fruit." From every standpoint of view this unique social was a success and proved conclusively that Dr. and Mrs. Hall are royal entertainers.

Yesterday was the monthly business meeting of the Parlor Lecture club and many of the members were out to hear the reports of the officers and of the chairmen of the various committees. Several new members were added to the rapidly growing list. Mrs. W. N. Sherman reported in behalf of the civic department that improvements advocated by the department and endorsed by the club were being made at the county poor farm and the inmates are to be made as comfortable as possible in their present quarters. Another need which the department presented to the club for its consideration was the matter of a day nursery to be established in Russiantown. Many of the children of foreign parents who are of school age are prevented from attending school because they have to stay at home to look after the smaller children while their parents are absent at work. The department expects to formulate some plan by which this scheme may be made practicable as the ladies have investigated conditions and find such an institution would be a real benefit to the city.

Another matter which came before the club was the Christmas bazaar, which the members expect to hold the first week in December. This will be an affair in which the whole club will be concerned in raising a good round sum for the building fund which is increasing very satisfactory and the members feel that their dream of a club home is to be very speedily realized. A social chat over the teacups concluded the afternoon.

Next week an important lecturer will speak before the club—Mrs. Emma Greenleaf, whose subject will be "Les Miserables and its Maker." Mrs. Greenleaf comes with the best recommendations. She is said to be a fascinating women as well as a speaker of ability.

At the Presbyterian mission on M street about a hundred and fifty friends of the mission workers gathered at a social given by the ladies of the "We and our Neighbors" circle of the church who have the mission in charge. The commodious tent was converted into a most attractive social hall by the decorating committee consisting of Mrs. James, Mrs. Webb and Miss Chandler, assisted by the social committee, Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Ellsworth. Pepper branches and autumn leaves with pumpkins and red lanterns formed the Hallowe'en decorations. Games suitable to the occasion entertained the company and a little later in the evening appeared ghostlike apparitions bearing trays of ice cream and cake with which to refresh the guests. The affair was most successful and enjoyable.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

Mrs. W. H. Smith Elected President in Place of Mrs. Ballagh.

The W. C. T. U. held its initial meeting under the leadership and in the home of the newly elected president, Mrs. W. H. Smith, of No. 2310 Fresno street. The former president, Mrs. Ballagh, was compelled to offer her resignation on account of continued ill health, and Mrs. Smith, who succeeds her, comes to the work from long experience as a successful worker in Missouri.

The other officers of the union are: Vice President, Mrs. Palmer G. Deyo; recording secretary, Mrs. A. L. Robbins; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. F. Wakefield; financial secretary, Mrs. L. A. Fee; treasurer, Mrs. J. F. Greeley.

Yesterday's meeting was a very interesting one. Mrs. Wakefield conducting the devotions, and after the transaction of some necessary business, Mrs. Deyo gave a bit of verse, "The World's Good Women."

Mrs. M. A. Russell then gave an interesting and helpful address on the work in general, giving some striking statistics and closing with a beautiful poem on "Frances Willard," by Kathering Lente Stevenson.

At the close, chocolate and wafers were served by the hostess.

BASKETBALL ORGANIZATIONS.

Y. M. C. A. Will Furnish Splendid Exhibitions of This Popular Game.

The friends of the Y. M. C. A. will be glad to learn that the interest in basketball is becoming aroused to the extent that promises first-class entertainment for those who know and enjoy the game. It is the purpose of the committee to allow four teams in the tournament, and as a special incentive to the players suitable valuable prizes or trophies will be displayed and presented to the winning teams. Some lately installed improvements in the gymnasium will greatly add to the convenience of both players and spectators, and some of the late rules under which the game will be played will increase the interest.

Three of the four teams are already practically organized, one of them being made up of men new to the association with the exception of the captain, who was among the most successful players of last season's tournament. On each of the other two teams there are men who have played the game before and also men who are new to it, so the known ability seems to be pretty well divided. An effort is being made to get a team from among the High school athletes.

Currency Reform Debated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The New York Chamber of Commerce today adopted a report of a special committee which recommended the establishment in this country of a bank to issue currency similar to the bills of the Bank of France. There was much opposition to the plan and many speakers declared that it was impracticable.

HUNTERS IN THEIR GLORY

Duck, Quail and Doves Are All Victims.

Mayor of Fresno Shoot Mayor of Fowler—Pointers on Ducks By Old Hunter.

Now that the quail season has opened, hunters are in their glory, for it is not unlawful to shoot quail, duck, or doves. Yesterday witnessed several successful shooting parties in the country about Fresno. P. H. Anson and Dan Morris got forty-two quail in about two hours shooting yesterday afternoon.

Mayor Shoots Mayor.

A party composed of Mayor Lyon, Will Eilert, Frank and Andrew Nelson of Fresno, and Fred Nelson of Fowler, engaged in an afternoon of quail shooting near Fowler yesterday. The party got a dozen quail apiece. An unfortunate incident of the afternoon was the shooting in the arm of Fred Nelson, the "Mayor of Fowler" by Mayor Lyon. Only a few shot entered Nelson's arm and it is not thought that an serious wound will result.

Duck Pointers.

Duck hunting is still occupying the attention of a great many sports. Sprig ducks are more plentiful than ever this season and this makes the sport more lively as the sprig is the most wary of all the ducks. Hunters on the marshes of the West side report especially fine shooting during the cloudy weather of the past few days.

"It is amusing to watch a flock of sprig that has been through the firing line so to speak," said an old hunter the other day.

"The leaders are full of business and their long necks seem to grow weary of twisting to this or that side with their eye for the man behind the gun. An old cock sprig is seldom caught napping. He will thoroughly scrutinize every little brush pile or blind in a marsh that looks the least suspicious, before he decides upon making the down turn into some pond, and even then when he has made up his mind that "the country is safe" he will daily immediately over a pond for some little time before wetting his feet. Excepting the mallard the sprig is the most cunning bird of the wild duck family. The mallard drake is an artful dodger at all seasons and his display of fine judgment when passing over a duck-shooting marsh is remarkable. This choice table bird with beautiful green plumage decorating his neck and thinking box, will studiously avoid flying over any open pond or slough when on a journey to some little pot-hole in the high tule. Expert hunters are aware of his tricks and after they have taken observation of his flight and place of landing, they cut a trail through the tule to the pot-hole and bag the birds as they come in from their morning's breakfast in singles or in pairs. This cutting of trails through the heavy tule is anything but child's play and as a rule only professional hunters resort to this means of procuring a good mallard shoot.

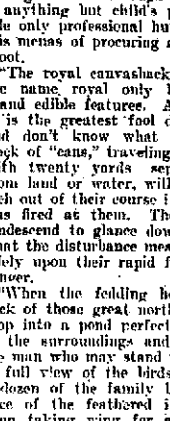

"The royal canvasback is entitled to the name royal only because of its grand edible features. As a game bird it is the greatest fool duck that flies, and don't know what danger is. A flock of "cans," traveling to some point with twenty yards separating them from land or water, will not budge an inch out of their course if a cannon ball was fired at them. They won't even condescend to glance downwards to see what the disturbance means. They rely solely upon their rapid flight to escape danger.

"When the folding hour arrives, a flock of those great northern birds will drop into a pond perfectly unconscious of the surroundings and regardless of the man who may stand up if he please in full view of the birds and kill half a dozen of the family before the balance of the feathered invaders decide upon taking wing for safe and more congenial quarters. Owing to their peculiar stupidity, and total disregard of danger, the canvasback are birds easily killed by sportsmen, and it would not be amiss to say that there are ten of these birds killed by means of pot shooting to the one that is killed, in a sportsmanlike manner, on the wing. This accounts for the large bags of canvasbacks that are made each winter subsequent to the arrival of the birds from the frozen north.

"To the man who delights in wing shooting, the most fascinating of aquatic sport, is stopping teal duck when they are passing within gun range, on a mission to some favorite feeding ground. The sportsman who can bag twenty-five teal or black Jack in a morning or evening shoot when they are traveling at the rate of eighty miles an hour, can well afford to take a pardonable pride in his bag."

TAX COLLECTOR

S. R. La Rue

From the San Joaquin Valley Farmer.

Here is a candidate without guile, subterfuge or chicanery. Clean, capable, honest, sober and steadfast in his convictions, of right, no man stands better before the people of the county than Bob LaRue of Malaga. He has impressed the voters everywhere as a quiet, gentlemanly fellow, devoid of parade, strut or pomposity—just a plain, blunt man who loves honesty for honesty's sake—without frills or furbelows; a man from the everyday walks of life, who knows what it is to make a living by honest toil, and who is, therefore, in sympathy with the toiling masses, and especially the farmers of the county, among whom he is proud to count himself an humble citizen.

These characteristics make of Mr. La Rue an ideal candidate and should elect him to office on November 6th.

HAVE YOU CATARRH?

Breathe Hyomei and Get Relief and Cure. Sold Under Guarantee.

If you have catarrh, with offensive breath, burning pains in the throat, coughing, raising of mucus, difficulty in breathing, sneezing, huskiness, discharge from the nose, tickling and dropping at the back of the throat, especially at night, coughing spasms, etc., begin the use of Hyomei at once.

It's healing medication will give relief in a few days and its continued use will completely drive all catarrhal germs from the system.

Hyomei contains Nature's healing oils and balsams, the germ-killing properties of the pine forests, and goes with the air you breathe to the most remote cells of the respiratory organs, searching out and killing all catarrhal germs and soothing and healing any irritation there may be in the mucous membrane. It is easy and pleasant to use Hyomei, pleasanter than most of the stomach dosing, as its healing air is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler, which can be carried in the purse or vest-pocket, and carries medication to just the spot where relief is needed.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents, and San Joaquin Drug Co. give their personal guarantee with every package that money will be refunded unless the treatment cures. This shows their faith in the power of Hyomei to cure catarrh.

Lest We forget—Baby is restless, can't sleep at night, won't eat, cries spasmodically. A bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge never fails to cure. Every mother should give her baby White's Cream Vermifuge. So many times when the baby is pale and fretful the mother does not know what to do. A bottle of this medicine would bring color to his cheeks and laughter to his eyes. Give it a trial. Sold by Geo. H. Monroe.

Farmington—Ah, there's that old poem about husking bees. I always did like that.

Dumley—Husking bees? What do you mean?

Farmington—Why, were you never in the country during the season of husking bees?

MOODY ON TRUST EVIL

Monopoly's Dangers Realized by the President.

And Republican Administration Is Prepared to Remedy Them Promptly.

BOSTON, Nov. 1—In political speeches at Republican rallies at Beverly and Salem last night, Attorney General Moody said "that he was investigating the great and powerful coal and oil combinations" and that if he found evidence of illegal combinations he would proceed without regard to personal or political consequences. Moody said:

"A few weeks ago Mr. Bryan said that the trusts were the paramount issue. I am not quite sure that he is right. He expressly congratulated President Roosevelt on the step he had taken on the enforcement of the anti-trust laws.

"We are in the midst of great industrial activities and prosperity. Great evils are arising out of this condition and President Roosevelt is determined to remedy it if a remedy can be found.

"The great industries are no longer conducted by the individual but by organized capital. Organized capital in modern industries is a necessity. The organization of labor and capital are here to stay, but we have the right to ask both that they shall obey the laws of the land.

"When the combination of wealth obtains great power, as it will, it destroys the individual initiative, disturbs the normal growth of commerce and sometimes the government. I myself have seen written on a sheet of paper the price of killing off competition. I have seen the cost of driving out of business the bold independent and divided among all the confederates. It is not wise that the people let a lay combination like this exist."

"Mr. Havemeyer, the sugar man, says that the tariff is the mother of trusts. It is not the tariff that is the mother of trusts; it is the rebate that is the mother of trusts and of its collateral relatives."

Moody, who was speaking for the reelection of Representative Gardner in this district, explained he was there at the expressed and earnest request of President Roosevelt.

"The president has made it manifest that it is his earnest desire that the Republican nominees should be elected and that the next house of representatives should be with him.

BIG CLEARANCES BY CHICAGO BANKS

Total for Month of October Was Over One Billion and Largest on Record.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Clearings of Chicago banks in October were in excess of $1,000,000,000, the exact amount being $1,000,451,400.

This is the largest total for any month in the history of the Chicago clearing house. It exceeds by nearly $6,000,000 the former high record of $994,617,055, made last December, during the banking activity caused by the closing of the Chicago National and other Walsh institutions, and is about $14,000,000 higher than the January clearings which had held the high mark for this year.

The increase in the clearings in the month just ended was nearly $85,000,000 over the total for October, 1905.

HIPPLE'S TRUST COMPANY HAS BEEN REORGANIZED BY FORMER RECEIVER EARLE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—Under the presidency of George H. Earle Jr., the Real Estate Trust company which failed on August 28th reopened for business today. The company failed because of financial irregularities on the part of Frank K. Hipple, its president, who before the failure committed suicide. Earle was appointed receiver and the concern opened under a reorganization plan perfected by him. More than $600,000 was deposited in the first hour of business.

PLANS ARE RECEIVED FOR GIANT BATTLESHIP TO RIVAL DREADNAUGHT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Plans for the proposed giant battleship were submitted to the secretary of the navy today. The battleship will have a displacement of at least 20,000 tons. All plans are to be submitted to congress, which is to pass on the navy department's action. There were five designs received from outsiders and two from the board of construction of the navy. Secretary Bonaparte examined all the plans and reserved action.

MT. VESUVIUS CAUSES CONTINUED GREAT ALARM AND SOME EARTHQUAKES

NAPLES, Nov. 1.—The eruption of Vesuvius of April last is still causing devastating effects. A heavy storm, which prevailed twenty-four, has caused large avalanches of mud to fall from the sides of the volcano, carrying off part of the Vesuvian railway, blockading trains along the seacoast and burying large sections of ground in the vicinity of Vesuvius. The inhabitants of the villages were greatly alarmed, especially as the storm was accompanied by earthquakes here.

SENATOR CLARK IS URGED BY FRIENDS TO STAND FOR RE-ELECTION

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—When Senator W. A. Clark of Montana was in this city on his way West he was asked if he intended to be a candidate for reelection. "I had about made up my mind," said the senator, "not to be a candidate for the senate again, but my friends insist I shall be." The senator is on his way to Montana, having left here yesterday. He said he had almost completely recovered from the automobile accident in France.

An Indication of Prosperity.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The report of Auditor Jardines of the New York postoffice shows that the receipts for the month of October from the sale of stamps, etc., reached $1,721,060, the largest month's business in the history of the office. This is an increase of 14¼ per cent over the corresponding month last year.

PRICES CURRENT

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Early in the day sentiment in the wheat pit was inclined to the bear side of the market, there being considerable selling by local holders because of easier cables and improved weather conditions. Shorts were fairly active buyers and as the session advanced the demand from that source became more urgent. About the noon hour, offerings commenced to dwindle and a quick upturn in prices followed. The continued small movement was one cause for the improved demand, but the scarcity of milling wheat at Minneapolis and in the Southwest was the chief cause of the rally. At Minneapolis it was said No. 1 Northern wheat was selling 4 cents a bushel higher than the December option.

The close was near the highest point of the day. December opened 1-4 to 1-4 at 3-8 lower at 73 3-4 at 78, advanced to 74 7-8 and closed at 74 3-4 at 7-8.

The corn market was easier at the opening because of the weakness of wheat, but later the market became steadier along with the wheat market. The small crop movement was also a strengthening factor. The market closed steady. December opened 1-8 to 1-8 at 1-4 lower at 43 1-4 to 43 at 3-8, sold up to 43 1-2 and closed at 43 3-8 at 1-2.

Oats responded moderately to the sharp advance in wheat but the market in general was steady. December opened 1-8c lower at 33 3-8, sold up to 33 1-4 and closed at 33 5-8.

Provisions were strong all day because of a light movement of hogs and trading was active. At the close January pork was up 32 1-2, lard 17 1-2 at 20 and ribs 20 at 22 1-2c higher.

LIVERPOOL: Close—Wheat; December 6s 4 7-8d; March 6s 5 3-8d; May 6s 4d.

SAN FRANCISCO. Nov. 1.—Wheat quiet but steady; December $1.27 1-2; May $1.31 3-8 bid; cash $1.25. Barley quiet but steady; December $1.13 3-4; May $1.15 1-4; cash $1.12 1-2.

GIRL'S LONG TRAMP FOR DYING MOTHER

Walked from Buffalo to New York to Convey Message to Missing Brother.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Lilli Devoe, 16 years old, dropped fainting in the streets of Yonkers last evening. The girl was taken to a hospital and when revived said her plight was due to the fact that she had tramped a great deal of the way from Buffalo. Her destination was New York, where she had a brother living. Her mother, she said, was dying in Chicago, and had written her, expressing a wish to see her son before the end came. The girl had no money and resolved to walk to New York in an endeavor to find her brother and carry out her mother's wish. Railroad men helped her on the journey by giving her free rides.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—A London dispatch says whalebone at $15,000 per ton is the prospective result of the failure of the Davis Strait and Greenland whale fisheries. Dundee whalers have just returned almost empty. They report that hurricanes which packed the narrows each with ice prevented them from reaching the fishing grounds.

A Certain Cure for Croup—Used for Ten Years Without a Failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommendd it to frinds and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequaled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by all druggists.

Notice of Public Work

Notice is hereby given that on Tuesday, the 4th day of September, 1906, the Board of Trustees of the City of Fresno, State of California, did at its meeting on said day adopt a resolution of intention—No. 400—to order the following public work to be done in said city, to-wit:

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION NO. 400.

Also, at said election, on said Tuesday, the sixth day of November, A. D. 1906, the following Amendments to the Constitution of the State of California will be voted on by the qualified electors of said State, all of which said Constitutional Amendments were duly proposed and passed by the Senate and Assembly of the State of California, in the manner required by Section One of Article Eighteen of the Constitution of the State of California, at the Thirty-sixth Session of the Legislature, beginning on the second day of January, A. D. 1905, and the Legislature of the State of California at its said Thirty-sixth Session duly submitted the said following Constitutional Amendments to the people to be voted on separately by said qualified electors of the State of California at said election, said Constitutional Amendments being prepared and designated by numbers and otherwise, as follows:

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 5.

Chapter XI. Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 5, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution by adding thereto a new section to article nine to be known as section thirteen, relating to the exemption from taxation of the property now or hereafter belonging to the Cogswell Polytechnical College.

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the legislature of the State of California, at its regular session, commencing on the second day of January, nineteen hundred and five, two thirds of all the members elected to each of the houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes that article nine of the Constitution of the State of California be amended by adding thereto a new section, to be known as section thirteen, to read as follows:

Section 13. All property now or hereafter belonging to the Cogswell Polytechnical College, an institution for the advancement of learning, incorporated under the laws of the State of California, and having its buildings located in the city and county of San Francisco, shall be exempt from taxation. The trustees of said institution must annually report their proceedings and financial accounts to the governor. The legislature may modify, suspend, and revive at will the exemption from taxation herein given.

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 11.

Chapter XXXVII. Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11, to propose to the people of the State of California, amending section 17 of Article VI of the Constitution, relating to the judiciary.

Whereas, The salaries now paid to the justices of the supreme court and of the district courts of appeal are inadequate compensation for the services they are required to perform; and

Whereas, It is impracticable to change the salaries of the justices or judges of the same court, where their terms expire at different times, under the present restriction that such salary shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which they have been elected;

Now, therefore, The legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the 2nd day of January, 1905, two thirds of all the members elected to each of the houses thereof voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes that Section 17 of Article VI of the Constitution of said state be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 17. The justices of the supreme court and of the district courts of appeal, and the judges of the superior courts, shall severally, at stated times during their continuance in office, receive for their service such compensation as is or shall be provided by law. The salaries of the judges of the superior court, in all counties having but one judge, and in all counties in which the terms of the judges of the superior court expire at the same time, shall not hereafter be increased or diminished after their election, nor during the term for which they shall have been elected. Upon the adoption of this amendment the salaries then established by law shall be paid uniformly to the justices and judges then in office. The salaries of the justices of the supreme court and of the district courts of appeal shall be paid by the state. One half of the salary of each superior court judge shall be paid by the state; and the other half thereof shall be paid by the county for which he is elected. On and after the first day of January, A. D. one thousand nine hundred and seven the justices of the supreme court shall each receive an annual salary of eight thousand dollars, and the justices of the several district courts of appeal shall each receive an annual salary of seven thousand dollars; the said salaries to be payable monthly.

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 12.

Chapter XLI. Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 12, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State of California, amending section nineteen of article five of said Constitution, relating to the compensation of state officers.

The legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the second day of January, A. D. nineteen hundred and five, two thirds of all the members elected to each of the houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby propose that section nineteen of article five of the Constitution of the State of California, be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 19. The governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, controller, treasurer, attorney-general, and surveyor-general shall, at stated times during their continuance in office, receive for their services a compensation which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which they shall have been elected, which compensation is hereby fixed for the following officers, as follows: Governor, ten thousand dollars per annum; lieutenant-governor, the same per diem as may be provided by law for the speaker of the assembly, to be allowed only during the session of the legislature; the secretary of state, controller, treasurer, and surveyor-general, five thousand dollars each per annum, and the attorney-general, six thousand dollars per annum, such compensation to be in full for all services by them respectively rendered in any official capacity or employment whatsoever during their respective terms of office; provided, however, that the legislature may, by law, diminish the compensation of any or all of such officers, but in no case shall have the power to increase the same above the sums hereby fixed by this constitution. No salary shall be authorized by law for clerical service, in any office provided for in this article, exceeding eighteen hundred dollars per annum for each clerk employed. The legislature may, in its discretion, abolish the office of surveyor-general; and none of the officers hereinbefore named shall receive for their own use any fees or perquisites for the performance of any official duty.

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 13.

Chapter XXXIII. Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 13, a resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to article eleven of the Constitution of the State of California, by adding a new section thereto to be numbered section thirteen and one half, of article eleven, relating to the making of public bonds payable at any place within the United States.

The legislature of the State of California at its regular session commencing on the second day of January, nineteen hundred and five, two thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes that article eleven of the Constitution of the State of California, be amended by adding a new section thereto to be numbered section thirteen and one half of article eleven, to read as follows:

Section 13½. Nothing in this Constitution contained shall be construed as prohibiting the state or any county, city and county, city, town, municipality, or other public corporation, issuing bonds under the laws of the state, to make said bonds payable at any place within the United States designated in said bonds.

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 14.

Chapter XXVIII. Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 14, a resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to section eight, article eleven, of the Constitution of the State of California, relating to charters.

The legislature of the State of California at its regular session, commencing on the second day of January, nineteen hundred and five, two thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes to the qualified electors of the State of California the following amendment to section eight, article eleven, of the Constitution.

Section eight of article eleven of the Constitution is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 8. Any city containing a population of more than three thousand five hundred inhabitants may frame a charter for its own government, consistent with and subject to the Constitution, (or, having framed such a charter, may frame a new one), by causing a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall have been for at least five years qualified electors thereof, to be elected by the qualified voters of said city at any general or special election, whose duty it shall be, within ninety days after such election, to prepare and propose a charter for such city, which shall be signed in duplicate by the members of such board, or a majority of them, and returned, one copy to the mayor thereof, or other chief executive officer of such city, and the other to the recorder of the county. Such proposed charter shall then be published in two daily newspapers of general circulation in such city, for at least twenty days, and the first publication shall be made within twenty days after the completion of the charter; provided, that in cities containing a population of not more than ten thousand inhabitants, such proposed charter shall be published in one such daily newspaper; and within thirty days after such publication it shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said city at a general or special election, and if a majority of such qualified electors voting thereon shall ratify the same, it shall thereafter be submitted to the legislature for its approval or rejection as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment. Such approval may be made by concurrent resolution, and if approved by a majority vote of the members elected to each house it shall become the charter of such city, or if such city be consolidated with the county, then of such city and county, and shall become the organic law thereof, and supersede any existing charter, (whether framed under the provisions of this section of the Constitution or not,) and all amendments thereof, and all laws inconsistent with such charter. A copy of such charter, certified by the mayor, or chief executive officer, and authenticated by the seal of such city, setting forth the submission of such charter to the electors, and its ratification by them, shall after the approval of such charter by the legislature, be made in duplicate, and deposited, one in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in said recorder's office shall be deposited in the archives of the city, and thereafter all courts shall take judicial notice of said charter. The charter, so ratified, may be amended at intervals of not less than two years by proposals therefor, submitted by the legislative authority of the city to the qualified electors thereof at a general or special election, held at least forty days after the publication of such proposals for twenty days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in such city, and ratified by a majority of the electors voting thereon, and approved by the legislature as herein provided for the approval of the charter. Whenever fifteen per cent of the qualified voters of the city shall petition the legislative authority thereof to submit any proposed amendment or amendments to said charter to the qualified voters thereof for approval, the legislative authority thereof must submit the same. In submitting any such charter, or amendments thereto, any alternative article or proposition may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 2.

Chapter XXVI. Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 2, to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to Article XX, section 16 of the Constitution, to provide for legislation concerning the term of officers or commissioners and certain employes whose terms of office are not provided for in the Constitution.

The legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-sixth session, commencing on the second day of January, nineteen hundred and five, two thirds of all the members elected to each house of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes that section sixteen of article twenty of the Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Section 16. When the term of any officer or commissioner is not provided for in this Constitution, the term of such officer or commissioner may be declared by law; and if not so declared, such officer or commissioner shall hold his position as such officer or commissioner during the pleasure of the authority making the appointment; but in no case shall such term exceed four years; provided, however, that in the case of any officer or employe of any municipality governed under a legally adopted charter, the provisions of such charter with reference to the tenure of office or the dismissal from office of any such officer or employe shall control.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 14.

Chapter XXXVIII. Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 14, amending sections fifteen (15) and nineteen (19) article five (5), of the Constitution, relative to the duties and salary of the lieutenant-governor.

The legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-sixth session, commencing January second, nineteen hundred and five, two thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby propose that sections fifteen (15) and nineteen (19), article five (5), of the Constitution of the State of California, be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 15. A lieutenant-governor shall be elected at the same time and places, and in the same manner, as the governor, and his term of office and his qualifications of eligibility shall also be the same. In case of the temporary disqualification of the governor or his temporary absence from the state he shall act as governor. In case of the death or permanent disqualification of the governor he shall become governor of the state. He shall be president of the senate, but shall have only a casting vote therein. He shall be ex-officio a member of all state boards and when the senate is not in session, shall visit the state institutions receiving aid from the state, and make careful examinations of the manner in which the appropriations for the support of such institutions, and for permanent improvements, have been expended, and report the results of his examinations to the governor, to the legislature, and to any other officer, or board of officers, that the legislature may direct. The legislature may by law prescribe the manner in which such examinations shall be made. If the office of lieutenant-governor shall for any reason become vacant or the Lieutenant-governor be disqualified or disabled from acting, the president pro tempore of the senate shall become acting lieutenant-governor and if while so acting the office of governor shall become vacant he shall become acting governor of the state and shall so act until the vacancy be filled, or the disability shall cease. The lieutenant-governor shall be disqualified from holding any other office, except as specially provided in this Constitution, during the term for which he shall have been elected.

Section 19. The governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, controller, treasurer, attorney-general, surveyor-general, shall, at stated times during their continuance in office, receive for their services a compensation which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which they shall have been elected, which compensation is hereby fixed for the following offices for the two terms next ensuing the adoption of this Constitution, as follows: Governor, six thousand dollars per annum; lieutenant-governor, four thousand dollars per annum, and traveling expenses when he may be employed in visiting and examining state institutions receiving state aid; the secretary of state, controller, treasurer, attorney-general and surveyor-general, three thousand dollars each per annum, such compensation to be in full for all services by them respectively rendered in any official capacity or employment whatsoever during their respective terms of office; provided, however, that the legislature, after the expiration of the terms hereinbefore mentioned, may by law diminish the compensation of any or all such officers, but in no case shall have the power to increase the same above the sums hereby fixed by this Constitution. No salary shall be authorized by law for clerical services, in any office provided for in this article, exceeding sixteen hundred dollars per annum for each clerk employed. The legislature may, in its discretion, abolish the office of surveyor-general; and none of the officers hereinbefore named shall receive for their own use any fees or perquisites for the performance of any official duty.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 20.

Chapter XXXIX. Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 20.

The legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-sixth session, two thirds of all the members elected to the senate and assembly voting therefor, proposes to the qualified electors of the State of California the following amendment to section seven of article twelve of the Constitution:

Section seven of article twelve of the Constitution is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 7. The franchise or charter of any corporation, now or hereafter existing under the laws of this state, may be extended, at any time prior to the expiration of its corporate existence, for a period not exceeding fifty years from the date of such extension, by the vote or written consent of stockholders representing two thirds of its capital stock or by two thirds of the members thereof. A certificate of such vote or assent shall be signed and sworn to by the president and secretary and by a majority of the directors of the corporation and filed in the office of the county clerk where the original articles of incorporation were filed, and a copy certified by such clerk shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, who shall issue a certified copy thereof which must be filed with the county clerk of the county where the original certificate is on file; and thereupon the term of the corporation shall be extended for the period specified in such certificate.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 33.

Chapter XXV. Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 33, to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to Article XI of the Constitution, to be numbered Section 16½, providing for the deposit of state, county and municipal funds in national and state banks.

The legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-sixth session, commencing on the second day of January, nineteen hundred and five, two thirds of the members voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes that a new section be added to the Constitution of the State of California, to be known as section sixteen and one half of article eleven thereof, to read as follows:

Section 16½. All moneys belonging to the state, or to any county or municipality within this state, may be deposited in any national bank or banks within this state, or in any bank or banks organized under the laws of this state, in such manner and under such conditions as may be provided by law; provided, that such bank or banks in which such moneys are deposited shall furnish as security for such deposits, bonds of the United States, or of this state or of any county, municipality or school district within this state, to be approved by the officer or officers designated by law, to an amount in value of at least ten per cent in excess of the amount of such deposit; and provided, that such bank or banks shall pay a reasonable rate of interest not less than two per cent per annum on the daily balances therein deposited, and provided that no deposit shall at any one time exceed fifty per cent of the paid-up capital stock of such depository bank or banks, and provided, further, that no officer shall deposit at one time more than twenty per cent of such public moneys available for deposit in any bank while there are other qualified banks requesting such deposits.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 40.

Chapter XLV. Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 40, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California, an amendment to the Constitution of the state, by amending sections 2 and 23 of article four thereof, relating to the length of legislative sessions, the compensation of members of the legislature and limiting the expense of employes of the senate and assembly.

The legislature of the State of California, at its regular session, commencing on the second day of January, nineteen hundred and five, two thirds of all the members elected to each of the houses of said legislature, voting in favor thereof, hereby propose that sections two and twenty-three of article four of the Constitution of the State of California, be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 2. The sessions of the legislature shall commence at 12 o'clock M., on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding the election of its members, and after the election held in the year 1880, shall be biennial, unless the governor shall, in the interim, convene the legislature by proclamation. No bill shall be introduced in either house forty days after the commencement of each session without the consent of three fourths of the members thereof.

Section 23. The members of the legislature shall receive for their services, the sum of one thousand dollars each per session to be paid at such times during the session as may be provided by law, and mileage to be fixed by law and paid out of the state treasury, such mileage shall not exceed ten cents per mile, and contingent expenses not exceeding twenty-five dollars per member for each session.

The legislature may also provide for additional help; but in no case shall the total expense for employes, or attaches, exceed the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) per day for either house, nor shall the pay of any attache be increased after he is elected, or appointed.

Also, at said election on said Tuesday, the sixth day of November, A. D. 1906, the following Amendments to the Constitution of the State of California will be voted on by the qualified electors of said State, all of which said Constitutional Amendments were duly proposed and passed by the Senate and Assembly of the State of California, in the manner required by Section One of Article Eighteen of the Constitution of the State of California, at the Thirty-sixth (Extraordinary) Session of the Legislature, beginning on the second day of June, A. D. 1906, and the Legislature at its said extraordinary session duly submitted the said following Constitutional Amendments to the people to be voted on separately by said qualified electors of the State of California at said election, said Constitutional Amendments being prepared and designated by numbers and otherwise, as follows:

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 2.

Chapter IX. Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 2, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State of California, amending article eleven thereof by adding thereto a new section to be numbered twenty, relating to the confering, for the period of two years, of certain powers and rights on the city and county of San Francisco relative to streets, parks, boulevards, reservoirs, and lands now owned or hereafter acquired by it, and the uses thereof.

The legislature of the State of California, at its extraordinary session, commencing on the second day of June, nineteen hundred and six, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby propose that article eleven of the Constitution of the State of California be amended by adding a new section thereto, to be known as and numbered twenty, and to read as follows:

Section 20. For and during the period of two years from the date of the adoption hereof, the city and county of San Francisco, by ordinance adopted by a two-thirds vote of its board of supervisors and approved by its mayor, may acquire, by purchase, condemnation, or donation, lands to be used for streets, parks, boulevards, reservoirs or esplanades, or may acquire, by purchase, condemnation or donation, lands to be exchanged for lands to be used for streets, parks, boulevards, reservoirs or esplanades, and may sell, or may exchange lands now used or hereafter to be acquired by it for streets, boulevards, reservoirs or esplanades for other lands to be used for the same or similar purposes; and may sell or exchange for other lands to be used for the same, or similar purposes, any lands now or heretofore used by it, as sites for public or municipal buildings, and may change, widen or extend the lines of its streets; and, where made necessary by the changing, widening, extension, or closing, in whole or in part of any such streets, may change the lines or routes of any pipe, pipe lines, conduits, or wires heretofore constructed or laid under the privilege granted by Section 19 of Article XI of this Constitution by any person, firm or corporation in or upon any of such streets, and may alter the terms of any such privilege now or heretofore held or enjoyed by any person, firm or corporation, or any street so changed, widened, extended or closed, only to the extent of changing the lines or routes of any such pipe, pipe lines, conduits or wires from the street so closed to the street opened, established or widened by reason of such change; provided, that no lands now owned by said city and county of San Francisco shall be sold or exchanged unless such sale or exchange shall first be authorized by a majority of the voters of said city and county voting thereon, at a special election called for the purpose of such authorization, but this shall not be construed to prevent any exchange of such lands acquired by the said city and county after the date of the adoption by the legislature of the resolution submitting this amendment to the people, for street purposes as herein provided; provided, further, that no existing public park or square, or any part thereof, shall be sold or exchanged under the provisions hereof, and also provided that nothing in this section contained shall be so construed as to confer upon the board of supervisors any power or authority, beyond that at this date possessed by it, to extend the term or time of existence, or conditions, of any privilege or franchise. In all cases proper compensation shall be allowed for all property or rights taken, acquired, or affected by such action. No property or rights shall be taken without the consent and concurrence of persons owning the same, except under the right of eminent domain and according to law. Provided, that the city and county of San Francisco, by ordinance adopted as above, may, at any time within two years from the adoption of this amendment, donate to the State of California, any lot of land now owned or hereafter acquired by said city and county as a site for the erection of a building for state officers in said city and county, or may lease to said state for a term not exceeding ninety-nine years a lot for that purpose.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 2.

Chapter III. Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 2, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the state, by amending section eight of article eleven thereof, relating to the amendment, during the period of two years, of the charters of the city and county of San Francisco and the city of San Jose without ratification by the legislature.

The legislature of the State of California, at its extraordinary session, commencing on the second day of June, nineteen hundred and six, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby propose that section eight of article eleven of the Constitution of the State of California be amended by adding to said section the following:

In the city and county of San Francisco and in the city of San Jose, for and during the period of two years from the date of the adoption of this amendment, the charter of said city and county or city may be amended at any time or times by proposal or proposals therefor, submitted by the legislative authority of the said city and county or city to the qualified electors thereof, at a general or special election held at least five days after the publication of such proposal or proposals for ten days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in said city and county or city and ratified by three-fifths of the qualified voters voting thereon; which amendment or amendments when so ratified by such vote shall immediately and without subsequent approval by the legislature become and be in full force and effect, and all acts, proceedings, matters or things done, taken, adopted or performed by any public board, officer, or by any individual or person under such ratified amendments of the charter of the said city and county of San Francisco or city of San Jose shall be forever as valid and effective as though such amendment or amendments to said charter had been approved by the legislature.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 8.

Chapter VII. Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 8, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of said state by amending article thirteen thereof by striking therefrom and repealing section five of said article, relative to contracts for the payment of taxes or assessments on money loaned or on mortgages, deeds of trust or other liens.

The legislature of the State of California, at its extraordinary session, commencing on the second day of June, 1906, two-thirds of all the members voting in favor thereof hereby propose that article thirteen of the Constitution of the State of California be amended by repealing section five thereof.

Article thirteen of the Constitution of the State of California is hereby amended by striking therefrom and repealing section five thereof, which section reads as follows:

Section 5. Every contract hereafter made, by which a debtor is obligated to pay any tax or assessment on money loaned, or on any mortgage, deed of trust or other lien, shall, as to any interest specified therein, and as to such tax or assessment, be null and void.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 12.

Chapter VIII. Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 12, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to Article XI of the Constitution of California, by amending section eighteen thereof, relating to the power of counties, cities, cities and counties, towns, townships, boards of education and school districts, to incur indebtedness.

Resolved, by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the legislature of the State of California, at its special session, commencing on the second day of June, A. D., 1906, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes that section eighteen of Article XI of the Constitution of California be amended by adding at the end thereof the following: The city and county of San Francisco, the city of San Jose and the town of Santa Clara may make provision for a sinking fund, to pay the principal of any indebtedness incurred, or to be hereafter incurred, by it, to commence at a time after the incurring of such indebtedness of not more than a period of one-fourth of the time of maturity of such indebtedness, which shall not exceed seventy-five years from the time of contracting the same. Any indebtedness incurred contrary to any provision of this section shall be void.

And I do hereby offer a reward of One Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction of any and every person violating any of the provisions of Title IV, Part I, of the Penal Code of the State of California; such rewards to be paid until the total amount hereafter expended for the purpose reaches the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars.

In Testimony Whereof, I, Geo. C. Pardee, as governor of the State of California, have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of Said State to be affixed at the City of Sacramento, this twenty-fourth day of September, A. D. 1906.

(Great Seal of State.)

Alias Summons.

No. 11,515.

Department No. One. Samuel Rosenheim, Attorney for Plaintiff.

W. H. Kent, plaintiff, vs. Colbert Coldwell, G. L. Butler, George D. Easton and Hattie C. Easton, individually, and as executor and executrix respectively of the last will and testament of George Easton, deceased; Wendell Easton, John Doe, Richard Roe, Mary Doe, Lucy Roe, First Doe, Second Doe, Third Doe, Fourth Doe and Fifth Doe, defendants.

The people of the State of California send greeting to Colbert Coldwell, G. L. Butler, George D. Easton and Hattie C. Easton, individually, and as executor and executrix, respectively, of the last will and testament of George Easton, deceased; Wendell Easton, John Doe, Richard Roe, Mary Doe, Lucy Doe, First Doe, Second Doe, Third Doe, Fourth Doe and Fifth Doe, defendants.

You are hereby directed to appear and answer the complaint in an action entitled as above, brought against you in the Superior Court of the said County of Fresno, State of California, within ten days after the service on you of this Summons—if served within this County; or within thirty days if served elsewhere.

And you are hereby notified that unless you appear and answer as above required the said Plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the Complaint, as arising upon contract, or he will apply to the Court for any other relief demanded in the Complaint.

Given under my hand and seal of the Superior Court of the said County of Fresno, State of California, this 22nd day of October, A. D. 1906.

(Seal) W. O. MILES, Clerk,

NOTICE OF ASSESSMENT.

The Commercial Petroleum Company. Office and Principal Place of Business, San Francisco, California. Location of Works, Fresno County, California.

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Board of Directors of said company, held on the 28th day of September, 1906, an assessment, No. 50, of One Dollar per share was levied upon the capital stock of said corporation, payable immediately to the Secretary, Harry B. Gregg, at the office of the company, No. 142 Steuart street, San Francisco.

Any stock upon which this assessment shall remain unpaid on the fifth day of November, 1906, will be delinquent and advertised for sale at public auction, and unless payment is made before, will be sold on Friday, November 23, 1906, at 12 o'clock noon to pay the delinquent assessment, together with costs of advertising and expenses of sale.

HARRY B. GREGG,
Secretary Commercial Petroleum Company.
Dated September 28, 1906.

A FEW SULLIVANS

Some Interesting American Citizens of that name now in the public eye.

GENERAL THOMAS C. SULLIVAN.

JOHN J. SULLIVAN.

SOME well known Russian novelist of the present generation—perhaps it was Stepniak, and possibly it wasn't—once observed that he could get a working knowledge of any nation from a study of the patronymics of its inhabitants. That would hardly apply to so composite a nationality as the American. Stepniak—or the other man, if he were another—would have had a serious time in an attempt to gauge America and the Americans after that highly speculative fashion.

He might have navigated his exploring craft without shipwreck through the oceans of Smiths, Browns, Blacks, Greens, Whites and all the others that with slight orthographical variation form so large a share of the human brotherhood, but he would have needed a pilot, and a very competent one at that, when he reached the Sullivans. For, be it known, the word Sullivan would have told him little. He might have consumed a lifetime in pursuit of its etymology.

One thing, however, he might have done and the result would have been excellent. Instead of laboring over the mystery concealed in the word itself he might have proceeded directly to a study of the individuals whose good fortune it has been to bear that euphonious surname. His reward would have been most satisfactory, for the Sullivans have done their share in the building of the republic.

And that they have not fallen behind in the race is evident from the number of Sullivans in the American public eye of today. Two of them—Timothy D. and Timothy P., first cousins—are powers not to be overlooked in New York state and local politics. In the language of one of their spellbinders, they are "two gentlemen who have rightfully inherited the name of Sullivan and to whom the respect, the esteem and the eternal allegiance of the stalwart Democracy of that famous and cosmopolitan artery of commerce, the Bowery, are indissolubly consecrated." Timothy D., affectionately discriminated as "Big Tim," has been a member of congress since 1903 and is probably the most "independent" political leader in the Empire State. Although he is a Tammany man, he does as he pleases, and his following is sufficient to make him safe in so doing. His alert cousin, "Little Tim," is commander of the Sullivan legions during the chief's absence and his able lieutenant at all times. It is the proud boast of this strong political team that no Democrat obnoxious to the Sullivan influence can hold office in the state of New York.

Another Sullivan who has achieved wide publicity is Roger C., the Democratic national committeeman from Illinois. He is a product of that species of politics that combines great partisan activity with the capacity to profit largely from the effort. He has shown himself to be a veritable genius in the art of manipulating conventions. Exceptional as they are in the case of Mr. Sullivan, these qualities do not appeal to many of the leaders of his party, William J. Bryan being especially emphatic in his opinion that this Illinois Sullivan should step down and out. This the committeeman declines resolutely to do. He has the reputation of keeping his promises and of remembering his friends.

Classic Boston is the habitat of a pair of Sullivans who have done considerable to keen the patronymic from relapsing into obscurity. Their methods of contributing to this laudable intention have been somewhat different, although both have shown themselves to be men of mettle. John A. is a lawyer and a congressman. He it was who furnished the inspiration for William R. Hearst's maiden effort in the house of representatives. One of the latter's newspapers had been printing disagreeable things about the Boston statesman, and he retaliated in a speech which was more forcible than nice. Whereupon the gentleman from New York, roused from the dignified silence which he had maintained since he had come to congress, rose in his seat and proceeded to enlarge upon the Sullivan patronymic from his peculiar viewpoint. Trouble followed, which came very near being more than a war of words, but, fortunately for the good reputation of the spot, no blood was spilled.

The other Sullivan from the Hub has shed his blood, plenty of it, in the effort to make the name illustrious. As heavyweight champion John L. has done his best to maintain the family traditions. It may be objected that his performance has lacked the stamp of intellectuality, but he has never admitted it. Neither have Bostonians in general, and why should they? Weren't the gumes of the Athenian gladiators quite apt to be sanguinary?

Ohio can boast of two rather superior specimens of the genus. One of them, General Thomas C., has had a long and honorable record in the American army. He was graduated from West Point as long ago as 1856 and has been an active participant in some of the most thrilling scenes in American history. From 1861, the beginning of the civil war, General Sullivan was prominent in the commissary department of the service until the year of his retirement on account of the age limit. Before the civil war he had a lot of experience on the Texan border.

The other Ohio Sullivan, John J., has an equally satisfactory record. He is also a rara avis—a New Yorker and a Republican and yet a Sullivan. As a member of the state senate he presented both the names of Foraker and Hanna for United States senators. Recently Mr. Sullivan has come into fresh prominence on account of his vigorous prosecution of the Standard Oil trust. He resides in Cleveland.

Colonel Waller and the United States Marine Corps; A Branch of the Service Not Well Known to the Public

ONCE more the American marine stands in the limelight. The recent order for the assembling of 5,000 United States marines on shipboard in Havana harbor, with the view to landing them as the advance force of an army of occupation in the event of Uncle Sam's intervention in the Cuban disputes, again called attention to one of the fittest and finest bodies of fighting men in the world—the United States marine corps. The designation of Colonel Littleton T. W. Waller as commander of this provisional force emphasized the high quality of marine corps officers. Colonel Waller was repeatedly promoted for extraordinary service in fighting the Filipino guerrillas and the Chinese Boxers. He is to the marine corps what General Funston is to the army or "Fighting Bob" Evans to the navy.

There was a time, not far back, when the marines were not very highly regarded in public estimation. That was chiefly because the general public knew very little about them. But during the Spanish-American war and the troubles in China a little later the marines did such effective work that every patriotic lip was loud in praise of them. Students of history are well aware that in nearly every engagement of American arms abroad the marines have done most valiant fighting, not only as landing forces, but as aggressive soldiers on interior expeditions and campaigns.

The marine is called "soldier and sailor too." As a matter of fact, he is not a sailor. He has nothing to do with the passing of coal, the sweeping of decks, the handling of ship's machinery or other duties of enlisted seamen in the naval service. Sometimes, it is true, the marines man the secondary batteries on warships, and in case of emergency they may take a hand at the big guns, but they are enlisted for duties quite different from those of the seamen. The marines are sea soldiers. Even this does not adequately describe them. They are land soldiers as well. While a detachment of marines goes aboard every war vessel for guard duty and police duty, from eighteen to seventy men, according to the size and class of the ship, events have proved that their highest importance lies in their ability to go ashore upon occasion and fight as infantry, just as that branch of the regular army fights. They are equipped with the same guns and practically the same accouterments as are the infantry, and before they ever set foot on a warship they are severely drilled in the manual of arms and in all the methods of the land fighter.

Training schools for marines are maintained at Washington, Annapolis, Brooklyn, Norfolk, Boston, Portsmouth and League island. The establishment at Washington is called the School of Application, and the training there is particularly thorough. The marines have been put to the test as land soldiers in our conflicts in Mexico, in Cuba, in the Philippines, in China and elsewhere, and in every instance they have fought with bravery and skill equal to that displayed by soldiers of the regular army. In fact, from the very nature of their service, they almost invariably do the first land fighting abroad, because they get there first.

The marine corps is older than the navy. George Washington was the father of the marine corps. In 1775 he observed the necessity of having actual soldiers aboard war vessels and sent an army captain with two companies on an expedition aboard an armed sloop. Less than two months later the Continental congress, acting upon this hint, established the marine corps, which has continued to this day as a separate and distinct arm of our fighting service. The present strength of the corps is 278 officers and 6,062 enlisted men.

COLONEL WALLER AND SOME OF HIS MARINES.

Marines fought with great gallantry in the war of 1812. They were a part of General Scott's army in Mexico, and at the storming and capture of Chapultepec the marines were among the first to scale the high walls of the fort. The commander of that detachment of marines, Captain Levi Twiggs, fell in the charge. Captain Myers of the marines, a grandnephew of Captain Twiggs, was desperately wounded in the attack of the allied forces upon Peking six years ago, and it was a marine, an Iowa boy, who was the first to scale the walls of Peking.

A detachment of 350 United States marines was right in the front of the fight at the first battle of Bull Run, and it was almost the last to fall back in the general rout, after losing heavily in killed and wounded. When the Merrimac fought the Federal fleet in Hampton Roads nine marines aboard the Cumberland were killed and the whole marine guard on the Congress was annihilated. Marines fought on ship and shore with Admiral Farragut in his campaign in the Mississippi river and were the first to enter the city of New Orleans when that place was captured, just as they had been the first to enter the City of Mexico with the victorious American army fifteen years before.

It was the marines who landed and held a camp at Guantanamo bay, in Cuba, for several days before the army forces landed, fighting almost constantly. In the Philippines, under Colonel Waller and other gallant commanders, the marines marched and fought side by side with the regulars and the volunteers, adding always to their meed of glory.

Whenever and wherever fire, flood, earthquake or riot menaces or devastates a city the marines usually get there first. A force of 130 marines aided materially in quelling the draft riots in New York city in 1863. At the great fires in Boston, Portland and San Francisco these "Johnnies" were on the spot early.

In the old days of wooden war vessels and short range guns the marines did great service on shipboard in repelling boarders when the ships got to close quarters, but now their fighting duties on board are chiefly confined to sharpshooting from the military masts in an engagement and to quelling mutinies, should such an outbreak take place.

The marine is of a higher class, generally speaking, than the enlisted man ashore. The enlistment regulations are more severe for this branch than for any other in the service. No drunkard is admitted. Every man must be physically fit, of good character and able to read English well. Applicants must be between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-five, from five feet six inches to six feet one inch in height, at least 132 pounds in weight and American citizens.

Most of the officers in the marine corps are graduates of the Naval academy, though enlisted men may be promoted through merit and some officers are appointed from civil life after proper training, as in the army.

QUAINT AND PUZZLING.

The addresses in Persian upon letters which go through the postoffice at Calcutta are often quaint and puzzling. An Indian paper recently translated one as follows: "If the Almighty pleases—Let this envelope, having arrived at the city of Calcutta, in the neighborhood of Caloolah, at the counting house of Sirajoodeen and Hahdad, merchants, be offered to and read by the happy light of my eyes, of virtuous manner and beloved of the heart—Meean Shaikh Inayut Ally, may her life be long. Written on the tenth of the blessed Rumzan, Saturday, in the year 1266 of the reign of our prophet, and dispatched at Bearing."

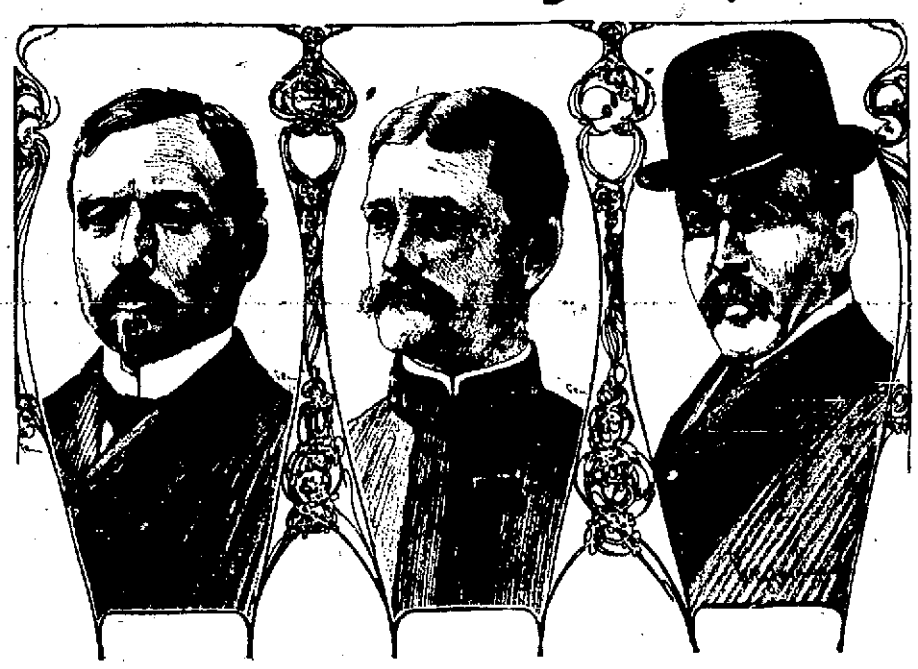

Remarkable Promotion of Captain Pershing

THE promotion of Captain John J. Pershing to the rank of brigadier general in the United States army has aroused a storm of more or less hostile criticism, and this serves also to call attention to the fact that during the past half dozen years a remarkable change has taken place in the manner of advancement in rank. Old traditions appear to have been knocked sky high, and precedents as old as the army establishment itself have been disregarded. There are many persons who uphold the president in this innovation, considering promotion by merit rather than by seniority a good thing for the army.

Captain Pershing's elevation to the brigadiership is by no means a matter of surprise. It has been expected for three years past, ever since the officer returned home from the Philippines with a record as a fighter and an administrator only excelled in picturesqueness and dash by that of Frederick Funston, who practically received his appointment as a brigadier on the spot.

Now that the promotion is a matter of fact reports from Washington are to the effect that the president's action is universally resented throughout the army. This resentment, of course, has nothing whatever to do with the personality of General Pershing, whose record as a man and as an officer is excellent. The fact that Pershing, whose rank as a captain in the cavalry service entitled him to command a troop of less than a hundred men, has been "jumped" over the heads of 862 officers who were his seniors in rank furnishes the ground for resentment. This remarkable list includes 257 captains, 364 majors, 131 lieutenant colonels and 110 colonels. Any one of these by remaining long enough in the service would have reached the brigadier rank in advance of Captain Pershing under the long established custom of promotion by seniority.

There are very few army precedents for such a promotion. Two such precedents, however, are still fresh in public memory. The first was the appointment of Frederick Funston, a brigadier general of volunteers, to the same rank in the regular army, the young volunteer having had no previous service in the regular organization. This appointment was made by President McKinley March 30, 1901, the same month in which Emilio Aguinaldo, leader of the Filipino insurgents, was captured as the result of an expedition led by Funston. At that time the "war fever" and its consequent patriotic fervor were raging in the United States, Funston was fresh from doughty and heroic deeds, and his sudden leap into the rank of a full fledged brigadier was not generally resented by the people, though there were many murmurings among the regular army officers whom his appointment had set back. It was conceded by all that Funston was a gallant fighter and a good soldier, but many felt that a man without West Point training and of comparatively brief service in the field should not be appointed to such high rank at the expense of promotion to many graybeard veterans, some of whom had seen service during and since the civil war.

GENERAL FRED FUNSTON. GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING. GENERAL LEONARD WOOD.

A furious storm of opposition was raised in the case of Dr. Leonard Wood, whom President Roosevelt promoted to the rank of major general in 1903. Dr. Wood had been in the regular army as a surgeon from 1885 to 1898, in which year he organized the famous rough rider regiment, with the assistance of Theodore Roosevelt, who was then assistant secretary of the navy. Wood went to Cuba as colonel of this regiment, Roosevelt being its lieutenant colonel. Wood soon became a brigadier general in the volunteer army, and Roosevelt succeeded to the colonelcy. After reaching the rank of major general of volunteers Wood was appointed a brigadier general in the regular army. As military governor of Cuba his work attracted wide attention and elicited high praise from many quarters. When Roosevelt, then president, made known his intention to promote his former colonel to the rank of major general there burst about his ears a whirlwind of objection, objurgation and adverse criticism such as no American president ever experienced in connection with any appointment.

The president was firm. He sent the nomination to the senate. Then charges against General Wood in connection with his administration of Cuban affairs were brought, but after a hard fight his promotion was confirmed by the senate.

Away back in 1777 the Continental congress severely hurt the feelings of Brigadier General Benedict Arnold by creating five major generals out of men lower in rank than Arnold, all of whom together, says a competent authority, did not possess a tithe of the ability or achievement of the Connecticut soldier. Congress justified this "jumping" of inferiors over the senior brigadier on the ground that Connecticut already had two major generals. This slight was a contributing cause to the future traitorous action of Benedict Arnold.

President Roosevelt's theory that extraordinary ability rather than length of service should count in promotions is exemplified in his elevation of Captain Pershing. This officer, a native of Missouri and a West Pointer of the class of 1886, made a remarkable record during the Filipino insurrection as conqueror and conciliator of the fierce and fanatical Moros in the island of Mindanao. For three centuries the Spaniards had tried in vain to subdue these Mohammedan warriors. Captain Pershing was put in command of an expedition to make a trip through their country and prove to them the power of the United States and its kindly intentions toward them. Pershing captured fifty-seven of the Moro forts by force of arms; but, what was more important, he captured their hearts by force of character. He learned their language, studied their Koran and pinced himself in sympathy with the people. They grew to love him, elected him a datto or ruler of one of their provinces and in less than a year he had accomplished what Spain had failed to do in 300 years.

MIKE FISHER HAS QUIT FRESNO BALL CLUB

Dispute Over Money Claimed By Fisher May Be Settled in Court—Directors of Local Club Refuse to Pay Him for His Interest in Tacoma Club.

Mike Fisher was not on the bench as manager of the Fresno club at yesterday's baseball game, Mike says that he has quit pending a settlement by the club of the money that is coming to him as manager under the contract that he signed with the directors of the Fresno club at the beginning of the year. President Evans of the club says that it is his understanding that Mike resigned and that it is his understanding that Fisher has no rights under the contract, and it is possible that there may yet be a law suit over the financial differences between the Fresno baseball club and Fisher.

As the matter stands at present, Charlie Doyle is manager of the Fresno club and no plans have been made for next year pending the settlement of the club's differences with Fisher, upon which may depend in a large measure Fresno's chances for the Pacific Coast League franchise for next year.

At a meeting of the directors held on the 13th of last month, Mike was given ten days' notice that he was not any longer wanted as manager of the club. This notice was given under the terms of the contract. Fisher asked that he be allowed to resign after the club had made a settlement with him for his services and this was the understanding reached. But Fisher did not resign and gave as his reason that it would forfeit his right to his half interest in the club under the terms of his contract with the directors of the Fresno club. The contract that the directors signed with Fisher was for his services for three years, provided that Fresno had the franchise that long. It was stated that if Fisher was discharged before that time he was to get $500 for his interest in the Tacoma club but that if he was retained the three years, or as long as Fresno had the franchise, he was to give this interest to Fresno free. Fisher says that he refused to resign until this $500 had been paid him, together with several other amounts for the payment of which he had not been given credit on the books of the baseball club. There is no dispute about these other amounts, it being admitted by the directors of the Fresno baseball club that they were caused on account of clerical errors, but it is understood that the Fresno club will resist Fisher's claim for his payment of half of the purchase price of the Tacoma club.

President Evans stated last night that if Fisher laid claim to any part of the Fresno club he will be assessed to pay his share of the losses that the club has sustained during the present baseball season. Thus the exact status of Fisher with regard to the Fresno club is a matter of dispute. He says that he has not handed in his resignation and will not until the club has settled with him for his interest in the old Tacoma club and that if the Fresno directors care to remove him under the terms of the contract, they will have to pay him for this interest. The directors of the Fresno club on the other hand state that Fisher has resigned and that he has no interest in the Fresno club.

Mrs. Fisher kept her husband's books for him while he was on his trip and Mike has telegraphed to her to come back to Fresno at once. The directors of the Fresno club state that there have been no errors in Fisher's accounts and that the financial end of his work as manager has been exceptionally straight.

Meet in December.

Word was received yesterday from President Bert that the directors of the Pacific Coast League will meet in Los Angeles next on the 6th of December. At that meeting the fate of Fresno will be determined. It is certain that both Seattle and Los Angeles will oppose the re-granting for another year of the baseball franchise to Fresno, and the attitude of the other clubs in the league is a matter of doubt. Fresno will have no vote in those proceedings as the franchise will have expired when the meeting is called.

May Now Draught.

The draughting season opened yesterday, and it is stated that agents for all the big leagues are watching the players of the Pacific coast league closely. All demands for players have to be filed with Secretary Farrell of the National Association by the 15th of this month. On the 16th of last month President Evans of the Fresno club sent to Secretary Farrell a list of the players on the reserve list of the club. This list includes all the players now with the Fresno club with the exception of Harry Wolters, who has already been sold to Cincinnati and the addition of Fred Brown and Mike Lynch, who belonged to the old Tacoma club last year and are the property of the Fresno club. Neither of these men played with the Fresno club this year. It is from this list that the big leagues will be permitted to draught. Only one man is allowed to be taken from each club in the league and it is thought that either Casey or Truck Eagan will go from Fresno. The sum of $1000 is paid for draughted players.

New Manager.

What the Fresno club will do for a manager in case the franchise is re-granted to Fresno, is now a question in the local baseball circles. While it is admitted that Charlie Doyle would make a good manager for the Fresno team, it is thought that the best policy is to get someone who has not played with the Fresno club and who can thus maintain his position as manager and disciplinarian without much difficulty. Both Charlie Irwin, San Francisco's third baseman, and Jud Smith, Portland's third baseman have been suggested for this position and it is possible that negotiations may be opened for their purchase or for a trade for them if Fresno gets the franchise.

It is regarded as certain that the Fresno club will not do much buying of players next year on account of the lack of money. Fred Brown is reasonably certain to be pitching for the Raisin Eaters, and if McGregor, Fitzgerald and Hoag are with Fresno that will make a good start for twirling material. The bushes will be searched for others and a good team can be made of the nucleus now the property of the Fresno club.

THEIR LAST MEETINGS

Democrats to Rally Tonight at Armory Hall.

Short and Harris Will Say Last Word for Republicans Tomorrow.

Tonight and tomorrow night Armory hall in this city will be the scene of the closing meetings of the Democrats and Republicans in the present political campaign in Fresno county. The Republicans will close tomorrow night at Armory hall, while the Democrats will hold forth there tonight.

The outside talent for the Democratic fireworks this evening is to be supplied by two gentlemen from the south, W. L. Porterfield and T. E. Hayden. Mr. Porterfield is a business man of Long Beach, who has been used considerably by the Democratic committees this year in speaking in various parts of the state because he was formerly a Republican and now calls himself a Democrat and is a supporter of Bell. Mr. Porterfield was in 1896 Republican candidate for secretary of state in Missouri, after which he came to Southern California and became interested in independent telephone lines.

The Democratic county candidates will speak briefly, headed by George W. Cartwright, who will have something new to say on the subject of the state senatorship. The Sixth Regiment band will furnish music. Attorney D. S. Ewing will preside at the meeting. An excursion train for this meeting is to be run over from Coalinga, and will make the return at midnight.

The Republicans will close their campaign tomorrow night at Armory hall, Frank Short and Mr. B. Harris will speak the last word on the subject of the state and county tickets and issues. There will be band music, and a large crowd is expected, as Short always draws a large crowd to listen to him. W. H. Shafer of Selma will preside.

While this closes the campaign in Fresno, Short will have his last word to say in the county at Sanger on Monday night.

The Democrats will have two meetings tomorrow night. One will be at Selma, where Henry Hawson is to speak on state issues, and the candidates will make their last bow to the public. At Clovis at the same time, George W. Cartwright and T. J. Alexander will make their last request for legislative votes.

At Scandinavian Colony.

A well-attended Republican meeting was held at Scandinavian Colony hall last night and much enthusiasm was manifested. John Winblad was chairman of the meeting, and was happy in introduction of the speakers. The speakers were H. E. Barbour and J. P. Bernhard. Among the candidates present were A. M. Drew, Judge H. Z. Austin and Alva E. Snow, and Isaac Coberly, candidate for justice of the peace.

Mr. Drew spoke on legislative matters, referring to his own experience and that of W. F. Chandler, and said a solid delegation with Frank Short at the head would be more effective in securing the recognition that Fresno is entitled to. He spoke of the agricultural school for Kearney park and a normal school for Fresno.

H. E. Barbour discussed the county candidates and the qualifications possessed by the Republican nominees for the offices to which they aspired. He spoke particularly of L. P. Timmins, pointing out his executive ability and his experience as an officer. He reminded the farmers present that in hiring a man to prune a vineyard they hired a man who knew the business. The same sound policy should govern them in hiring a man to fill the sheriff's office.

J. P. Bernhard talked of Gillett's nomination and Ruef's relation to-wit: He said Ruef was against Gillett at Santa Cruz and is against him now as shown by the action of Ruef's lieutenants in endorsing Bell as the labor candidate. At the meeting called by Ruef in San Francisco for the purpose of supporting him in his usurpation of the district attorneyship, Gillett's name was hissed. McCarthy had advised the Labor Union men to vote for Bell, and McCarthy does what Ruef tells him to.

Three More Pile Drivers.

Work on the Fresno street subway is to be expedited by bringing from Salton sea three pile drivers and a crew of 100 men, to arrive here next Monday. The work on the Colorado river is now about completed. The Southern Pacific engineers hope to complete the pile driving on the Fresno job within thirty days.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF REALTY BOARD

Will Take Up Methodist College Site, Normal School and Agricultural College.

The regular monthly meeting of the Fresno Real Estate board will be held at the Chamber of Commerce this evening at 8 o'clock.

Business of considerable importance will come up before the meeting. A college site is desired for the Methodist Episcopal church and a committee from that denomination will address the meeting in regard to the site.

The matter of obtaining an agricultural college and a normal school for Fresno will also be taken up at this meeting. It is the intention to ask the co-operation of all of the organized real estate boards in the state to help Fresno in obtaining the agricultural college and the normal school, as a great many members of the Real Estate boards saw the beautiful Kearney park during the Real Estate Men's convention held in Fresno last month. Fresno has never been in a better position to ask the state government to locate a normal school and and an agricultural college in her vicinity.

Members of the board are asked to make it a point to attend this meeting.

His Family About to Make Trip to Honolulu.

Rev. Harcourt W. Peck, who until last month was pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church in this city, and is now presiding elder of the Fresno district, is in town for a day or two making preparations for the departure of his wife and daughter to Honolulu on a visit to relatives. Mrs. Peck formerly lived in the Hawaiian islands and looks forward with great pleasure to the trip.

Mr. Peck has already traveled over a thousand miles, but has not completed the circuit of his district, which is a very large one, extending from Fresno to Mojave on the east side and from San Miguel to Santa Barbara on the west side. Everywhere he has been holding special meetings and preaching. He has not yet decided where he will make his home during his term as presiding elder, and will not do so until the return of his family from the islands.

HAVE EXAMINED MINE

Copper Experts Will Not Discuss Glasgow Property.

Four representatives of the bankrupt Glasgow corporation that has lost so much money in the Fresno Copper mine returned yesterday from Clovis, where they had spent some time in examining the property for their principals. The party, consisting of Messrs. William Dempster, J. F. Readman, Daniel Simpson and John Tait, refused to discuss in any way the subject of their trip. A great deal depends on their report to Glasgow on the question as to whether more money shall be sunk in the mine or not. The men are leaving Fresno this morning, but do not go directly to Europe.

PATENT RIGHT CONTROVERSY

Depositions Taken Regarding Seeding Machines.

Suit of Consolidated Company Against Canners to Be Heard By Wellborn.

Two San Francisco attorneys were in Fresno yesterday taking depositions preparatory to the hearing of the case of the Consolidated Seeded Raisin company against the California Fruit Canners' association for violation of seeding machine patent rights. This case was to have come up before Judge Wellborn next Monday in the United States District court in this city, but it is now understood that the case will probably go over till the following Monday, as Judge Wellborn intends returning to Los Angeles at once and continuing matters over for one week.

The depositions were taken before John W. Gearhart, United States Court examiner. John H. Miller of San Francisco represented the Consolidated company, and examined two witnesses. C. A. Telfer of the Consolidated company testified to the receipts of royalties from various companies that are organized into the Consolidated company. A. L. Hobbs gave testimony with regard to the early form of raisin seeding machines.

William L. Booth, another San Francisco attorney, was present for the California Fruit Canners' association. He introduced some documentary evidence in the way of transcripts from patent records at Washington.—This closed the taking of evidence.

In equity cases before the Federal courts, all testimony is introduced in the form of depositions. Attorneys Miller and Booth have returned to San Francisco.

Pending the decision of the United States courts with regard to patent rights in the seeding machines, the California Fruit Canners' association is going on with the use of the seeding machines.

COFFEE CLUB TROUBLES ARE UNDER ADVISEMENT

Defunct Institution Is Sued for Fixtures By Restaurant Proprietor.

More of the troubles of the ill fated Coffee Club were heard in court yesterday when Mr. Boone, the proprietor of the restaurant which was replaced by the club, sued the corporation for $50. This amount is claimed to be due for fixtures and furnishings used in the place when handed over to the directors of the institution. The case came up before Judge Smith who heard the testimony, and took the decision under advisement. The plaintiff was represented by Attorneys Everts & Ewing who recently secured judgment for $100 on behalf of the same plaintiff for other debts of the Coffee Club.
